Russians Suffer Heavy Losses In Land Mine Blast

Finns Claim Soviet Troops Destroyed As Huge Mine Is Set Off

MINE SET BENEATH LANDING WHARF

Heavy Fighting Reported—Appeal Made For Aid By Finland

By WALTER SCHWARTZ
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HELSINGFORS, Dec. 8—Death of thousands of Soviet soldiers in explosion of a huge land mine during landing of Russian troops from warships in the port of Liinahamari north of Petsamo was disclosed in Helsingfors today.

The mine had been set by Finnish engineers beneath the main wharf at Liinahamari and went off soon after large detachments of Russian invaders had been landed for a second Soviet assault upon Petsamo.

Exact number of casualties was not known, but Finnish military headquarters estimated them at "many thousands."

Heavy Fighting

Meanwhile, heavy fighting developed on the Carelian Isthmus, where Finnish troops launched a new counter attack in the eastern sector after the Russians reached the main defenses of the Mannerheim line at several points but failed to penetrate it.

Local fighting was in progress north of Lake Ladoga where the Soviets again used gas shells, ac-

Christmas Shopping Rush Gaining Great Momentum In City

Christmas spirit temperatures seem to run in inverse ratio to the weather's temperature and that seems to be getting chillier every day. Ergo the Christmas spirit is getting warmer as you've noticed no doubt, around your own house.

It's the season of secrets, of locked closet doors, of peculiar telephone messages and cryptic glances among the youngsters. The Christmas shopping season is in full bloom and the clerks in the stores will testify the folks have it this year in a big way.

Large Toy Departments

The toy departments this year are larger than they have been in some time. Hardly a store but has a toyland of some size and all of them are doing business. From tiny dolls to highly mechanized equipment, all of them the envy of youngsters.

The usual list of Christmas buying, hose, neckties, jewelry, perfume, shows an upturn along with sales of clothing and shoes. Business houses report a heavy November shopping total with the first week in December indicating an increased tempo as the days go by.

Soviet Invasion Of Finland Denounced By French Premier

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Premier Edouard Daladier bitterly denounced the Soviet invasion of Finland in an address to the chamber of deputies today.

Responding to a speech by Deputy Jean Mistler, who demanded strong French action against Russia at the league of nations council meeting tomorrow, Daladier said:

"I fully associate myself with these sentiments regarding aggression in Finland, which has shocked the whole world into a stupor of horror and disgust.

"France will answer Finland's appeal at Geneva tomorrow.

"I believe that even in enemy countries some certain men are protesting among themselves against the crime of which this noble country has been made victim.

"A nation is greater by the value of its men and its civilization than by its mere volume of population and extent of territory.

"For the first time since September, it seems there is an awakening of certain elements of the universal conscience which had seemed to be sleeping in the face of brutality and force.

"Perhaps that is the greatest service which Finland has rendered to humanity. The government of France salutes Finland, and assures her of its lively and profound sympathy."

A meeting of the ministerial council was summoned for this evening to discuss the Geneva agenda.

Train Hits Auto; Five Are Killed

Accident Happens At Crossing In Vicinity Of McDonald, Pa.

PARTY ENROUTE HOME FROM PRAYER MEETING

(International News Service)

McDONALD, Pa., Dec. 8.—Death of Mrs. Charles A. Hainaut, McDonald, early today brought to five the number of fatalities resulting from a freight train-automobile crash at McDonald last night.

Condition of Dr. Charles A. Hainaut, 29, driver of the car and the only one not hurled from it when the fast Pennsylvania railroad freight train smashed into it and dragged it 200 feet, today was considered "serious."

Tell Of Crash

Friends traveling in the car ahead of the one in which the five persons were killed said they attempted to flag down Dr. Hainaut. Mrs. Isabel Pletincks, also of McDonald, said:

"We realized Dr. Hainaut might not see the train approaching. It was coming fast and before we could move there was a great crash.

"We ran down the track to the smashed automobile. We located it by one headlight still burning. Dr. Hainaut was still behind the wheel, in a semi-conscious condition."

Italy Affirms Balkan Stand

Warning Issued By Fascist Council Is Directed At Russia

ROME-BERLIN AXIS ALSO RE-AFFIRMED

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Dec 8.—Issuing a warning that seemed obviously directed at Russia, Premier Mussolini's Fascist grand council today affirmed Italy's interest in the Balkans and the Danubian basin and at the same time reaffirmed the Rome-Berlin axis.

The clear warning that events affecting the Balkans and the Danubian basin are of "interest" to Italy took on special significance in view of Russia's reported ambitions there and recent Italian newspaper comments on this subject, which have made it clear that Rome will not tolerate the march of communism in that area.

Pact Alliance Upheld

As regards the Reich, the grand council reaffirmed that Italy's relations with Berlin "remain in conformity with the pact of alliance".

The declarations of the council were embraced in an "order of the day" which was approved by the council after a three hour and forty-five minute meeting that ended

Plan To Put U. S. Ships In Service

President Says Progress Is Being Made With Plan For Resuming Ship Runs

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Progress is being made on plans to put American ships forced off the seas by the neutrality act back into useful service, President Roosevelt said today.

The president, at his press conference, held after a long conversation with U. S. Ambassador to London Joseph P. Kennedy, said Kennedy would confer this afternoon with the maritime commission.

Kennedy sat beside Mr. Roosevelt throughout the press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated that, according to the way the shipping plans are shaping up, laid up American vessels may take over trade runs abandoned by belligerent nations.

He indicated that such routes would be non-American—that is, between neutral port and neutral port, neither of them American.

Trotsky May Give Testimony

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 8—Leon Trotsky, exiled co-founder of Bolshevist Russia, said today that he had accepted—with reservation—an invitation to appear before the Dies committee on un-American activities.

He indicated, however that he would discuss only matters bearing upon the history of Stalinism, not internal questions concerning Mexico.

This was interpreted as meaning that Trotsky would have nothing to say regarding the Mexican oil question or regarding suspected communist plots to use Mexico as a base for spreading red doctrines in the western hemisphere.

Chairman Martin Dies of the American house committee also sent an invitation to Diego Rivera, Mexican muralist, to appear before the committee, but Rivera said he would testify only in Mexico.

Landon Approves Roosevelt Policies In Foreign Crisis

But Assails President For Failure To Restore Posperity To U. S.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Alf M. Landon, the 1936 G. O. P. nominee, today gave a 100 per cent endorsement to President Roosevelt's handling of the present foreign crisis but scathingly assailed him for failing to restore prosperity to the country.

Landon pledged support of the president's foreign policies "until and unless I see direct evidences that he wants to lead us into war."

On domestic issues, Landon said the president continually "nagged business," thereby defeating recovery, while permitting some of his associates to make direct attacks on the capitalistic system. He charged the president with falling down on a major jor, by failing to maintain harmony either in the country or in his own party.

It was Landon's second interview here in two days. In the first, he called on the president to immediately announce his stand on a third term.

Landon declared the nation would recover prosperity only by electing a Republican president in 1940.

Nazi Germany Issues Warning

Sweden, Norway And Denmark Warned To Consider Friendship

CONCERN SHOWN IN THREE NATIONS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Nazi Germany today sharply warned Sweden, Norway and Denmark to consider the advantages of German friendship before it is too late.

On the heels of a statement by the official German news agency D.N.B. advising the Scandinavian countries to remain aloof "from suggestions of the British war-mongers," authoritative German quarters lent pointed new emphasis to the declaration.

Grave Concern

Reliable information from Stockholm, Oslo and Copenhagen indicated to Berlin observers that there already is grave concern in these Scandinavian states over the widening gulf of antagonism between them and Nazi Germany.

"The Scandinavian state will do well to consider the true situation before over-stepping the limits of their Anti-German tendencies," a spokesman said.

"The Reich is taking note of the fact that a friendly tone toward Germany is rarely perceivable in utterances by their statesmen.

Will Remember

"This we will remember if in the future the Swedes and the Norwegians try to form some hasty friendship with Germany in the eleventh hour, as Finland tried to do."

Informed quarters regarded the D.N.B. statement as a direct warning to the Scandinavian countries not to entangle themselves with Great Britain and France against Soviet Russia in any league of nations action.

It was designed also to thwart any Scandinavian desire to support Britain's blockade measures against Germany.

No Statement By President On Third Term

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—President Roosevelt today side-stepped another chance to disclose his attitude toward a third term while his 1936 G. O. P. opponent, Alf M. London was pledging him 100 per cent support in foreign affairs, but denouncing his administration for failing to restore prosperity.

It was Landon who raised the third term issue anew by calling on the president for a second time to disclose his plans for 1940.

At his usual White House press conference, the president was told:

"Governor Landon has again expressed the desire that you give us some idea of your 1940 plans?"

The president threw back his head and laughted heartily, then he told the interviewer to direct his question to a woman correspondent who has frequently asked him about the third term issues. That ended the incident.

U. S. Warns On British Seizures

American Rights Must Be Observed

Note Is Cabled To British Government From Washington On Issue

BLOCKADE ORDER CAUSES PROTEST

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The United States government today warned Great Britain that American rights must not be violated in the enforcement of the British blockade against German exports.

A note containing the American views was cabled to the British government although the text of the communication was not made public for the moment.

A British order in council subjects all German goods to seizure on the high seas even if such good are being transported by a neutral vessel. The embargo is a retaliatory step against Germany's sea warfare.

Vigorous Protest

American shipping and trade interests insisted that the United States lodge vigorous representations with the British foreign office on the grounds that the blockade constitutes a violation of American neutral rights under international law.

A similar blockade was put into effect by Great Britain during the first World war shutting off from the American market certain merchandise produced only in Germany.

Although German exports to the United States virtually have dried up as a result of the war, American importers still are anxious to purchase a number of merchandise items from the Reich. These include certain chemicals and dyes, precision instruments, cameras and surgical instruments.

"A least we know the Roosevelt policy is to keep us out of war, and our entrance into the war at this time would mean chaos beyond anybody's dreams"

Report on War Situation

Kennedy said he expected to make a few reports on the European situation to his chief.

Arriving in Washington from New York by air, the ambassador said he would make some suggestions for aiding the American merchant marine to operate under the drastic provisions of the new cash-and-carry neutrality act. He explained that he had a plan to permit the use of American merchant ships between United States ports and all British possessions not in the actual war zone. Traffic in American boats between the United States and most of Great Britain's possessions outside the war zone, however, is already permitted under special exemptions written into the neutrality act.

RUSSIANS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES IN LAND MINE BLAST

cording to Finnish military authorities, and machine-gunned civilians from airplanes in two small towns.

Finland denied Russian claims that in the north Soviet troops had penetrated to a point 45 kilometres (about 26 miles) below Petsamo.

Renewed activity was reported from Hango and other fortified places along the southern coast.

Unofficial reports again stated that Finnish planes had successfully bombarded Soviet aerial concentrations at Paldiski (Baltic port), the Estonian harbor taken by the Russians as a military base. The reflection of flames from burning planes could be seen from Helsingfors across the water.

Counter Attack

The counter-attack was launched as the Helsingfors government issued a desperate appeal to Great Britain, the Scandinavian nations and other friendly countries to send men and arms to Finland to stem the Russian invasion and save Finland from a "fate worse than Poland's."

The Russians reached some of the main Carelain defenses after a 15-hour battle during which they were reported to have suffered severe casualties.

(A dispatch from Stockholm stated that a high Finnish officer on the Carelian front in an interview expressed "contempt" for the Russian tactics in "driving forth masses of men without cover."

(According to the dispatch, the officer estimated that Russian losses during the first week of the war amounted to 20,000 men.

(The dispatch quoted him as adding: "Perhaps it will not be easy later on for the Russian officers to drive their soldiers over these dead corpses.")

Meanwhile, an official announcement stated that "despite bad weather, Finnish coastal defenses fired on Russian warships which tried to shell the coastal fortifications."

According to an official communique, Soviet planes bombed three Finnish villages along the northern shore of Lake Ladoga, but caused only slight damage.

The communique admitted that the Russians crossed the Taipale river in Carelia under cover of heavy artillery barrages, but stated that the counter-attack was designed to drive the reds back across the stream.

North of Lake Ladoga, it added, heavy fighting progressed and four more Russian tanks were destroyed. Soviet forces in that area are approaching the Iolva river. The communique said, and heavy fighting is continuing in the Kiante district.

News Briefs From City Hall

Council has not decided upon appropriations for 1940. It may require several days to complete the task. According to councilmen, they do not propose requesting costly new equipment. Council has not taken final action on any of the appeals from triennial assessments made.

Although the city clerk has been instructed to advertise for bids for letting out the garbage collection and disposal, council will make an appropriation for that work. Mayor Charles E. McGrath believes a saving may be made in that department. According to one report it cost the city approximately $38,000 to control the garbage situation here.

J. Myron Rice, public safety director, yesterday said the expense of operating Slyvan Heights golf course was not $7,600 in 1938. He said receipts from golfers should be deducted. As yet the manager of the golf course has not been named for next year. He receives a small salary, plus house rent. The city pays the heating and illuminating bills.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath said today a rumor was being spread. It was to the effect the mayor was only interested in lowering assessments on Washington street property. When this came to his attention he was riled considerably. He sought the source and said today: "I'm in favor of a downward trend for every property owner in the city."

Talk that the incoming council may revamp the line-up in City Hall has not expired. Many persons in City Hall have heard it expressed. Whatever comes from the report will be noted on the first Monday in January, when new officials prescribe to the oath of office and go into council session.

Chester O. Morrow, aged 81 years, died Thursday evening at 8:10 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. White, 519½ Highland avenue, following an illness of a year and a half's duration.

Mr. Morrow's wife, Elizabeth Seamans Morrow, preceded him in death in June of 1924.

He was born in New Castle January 5, 1858, the son of David and Elizabeth Smith Morrow. Throughout his life he was a resident of this city. For 55 years he was employed in the tin mill here as a roller. For the past 16 years he had been retired.

Mr. Morrow was a member of First Christian church and the Men's Bible class of that congregation. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. White, with whom he had been making his home during the past several years, and Mrs. W. C. Dewberry of this city. Three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also are left.

A half-brother, James H. Sullivan of Belle Vernon, Pa., and a half-sister, Miss Annie Sullivan of this city, also survive.

Mr. Morrow's father, David Morrow, was killed in action during the American Civil war.

Funeral services will be conducted from the R. L. Boyd funeral home Sunday at 3 p. m. with interment in Greenwood cemetery. Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate.

The family will be at Boyd's funeral home Friday and Saturday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock and Saturday afternoon to receive friends.

Mrs. Veronica Urban

Mrs. Veronica Urban, aged 71, wife of Joseph Urban, of 110 Terrace avenue, died at the residence this morning at 7:30 o'clock, following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Urban was born in Hungary on September 8, 1868, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kacala. She was a resident of New Castle for the past 38 years, and was a member of the St. Michael's church.

Surviving Mrs. Urban are her husband, Joseph Urban; one son, Joseph Urban, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., and two daughter, Mrs. Rose Mihok and Mrs. Sue Seinkner. She also leaves 13 grandchildren.

The body will be taken to the residence early Saturday morning. Funeral services will be conducted on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Michael's church with Rev. Fr. J. E. Janok in charge. The family will leave the residence at 8:30 o'clock.

Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Horace G. Tetlow

Howace G. Tetlow, aged 62 years, of 412 Sixth street, Seventh ward, died at his home at 12:15 a. m. today.

Born in Washingtonville, O., May 21, 1877, Mr. Tetlow was a locomotive engineer on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for 37 years. He was a member of the B. & O. Veterans' Association of the local division.

He was a member of Mahoning Methodist church. For 36 years he had resided in the Seventh ward.

Three sons, Charles, William and Phillip, all of New Castle, and a daughter, Mrs. Vida Morgan, New Castle, survive him. Also remaining are three brothers, J. J. Tetlow, Cleveland; Charles, Akron, and Harold, Youngstown.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, 412 Sixth street, Seventh ward, Monday, December 11, at 2:30 o'clock. The officiating minister was not announced.

Mrs. Perush Funeral.

High mass of requiem in memory of Mrs. Clara Perush, of Bessemer, was celebrated in St. Anthony's church with Rev. Fr. J. A. Young as celebrant.

Pallbearers were Frank Likovich, Louis Hriber, John Kopnik, Frank Viltusnig, Andy Sagovec and Joseph Glavan, all members of the Bessemer S. N. P. J. lodge.

Interment was in the Bessemer cemetery. Members of the lodge conducted services at the side of the grave, with George Strutz in charge.

Funeral Time

Funeral services for the late Mrs. J. S. Mossman of Greenville, who died on Wednesday in Tampa, Fla., will be held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the A. C. Osborne funeral home in Greenville, with Rev. Hazlett, of Oil City in charge.

The body has been taken to the funeral home, where friends may call on Saturday and Sunday.

Interment will be in Park Lawn cemetery in Jamestown, Pa.

of the train were M. J. Kinary, engineer, and B. J. Wilson, conductor, both from Columbus, O.

Sister Of New Castle Woman

A New Castle home was saddened today by the auto-train crash near McDonald, Pa., that snuffed out the lives of four persons. Mrs. Elizabeth Hookey, one of the victims was a sister of Mrs. A. L. Bowland of 232 Leasure avenue, this city. The Bowland family was notified by telephone of the accident last night.

JURY GETS CASE AT NOON HOUR IN DAUPHIN COURT

wealth in the Earle administration is charged with five counts, all misdemeanors. He listed them as follows:

1—Conspiracy to cheat and defraud the commonwealth by causing and permitting contracts to be performed in an inferior manner.

2—Conspiracy to unlawfully obtain contracts with the state by procuring the preparation of specifications of gravel to be drawn so as to benefit the Pioneer Materials Company, Lawrence, and the late John J. Verona, Pittsburgh ward leader, who was indicted as a co-conspirator.

3—Conspiracy to unduly influence state highway department officials in the award and performance of a 57,000-ton gravel contract to the Pioneer Materials Company, of Kittanning.

4—Extortion of $5,000 from Spurgeon Bowser, president of the Pioneer Materials Company.

5—Violation of the election laws by failure to report this political contribution to the Democratic party treasurer.

Points Out Facts

Judge Hughes pointed out that under the bill of particulars filed by District Attorney Carl B. Shelley and representing a detailed account of the offenses charged, others are named as "accomplices" of Lawrence and Verona, namely: former Secretary of Property and Supplies Arthur Colegrove; former Secretary of Highways Warren Van Dyke; former Chief Highways Engineer H. H. Temple, and former Erie District Engineer Edward A. Griffith.

Apparently impressed by the testimony which the defense presented during the trial attacking the veracity of Bowser, the commonwealth's star witness and others, the court told the jurors:

"There has been offered testimony to raise a reasonable doubt as to the accuracy and credibility of the commonwealth witnesses, and more particularly that of Spurgeon Bowser."

The state's case was based largely upon circumstantial evidence, said Judge Hughes.

"As you can readily see," he said, "the commonwealth, in seeking to offer evidence to sustain their position in regard to each of the counts of this indictment of conspiracy, have based it largely upon circumstantial evidence."

At the same time, added the court, "it is rare that a conspiracy can be established by direct proof. As a general rule conspirators do not publish their intentions; hence it is that their object and the conspiracy itself must usually be shown by their acts."

The two-year statute of limitations affects the crime, but not the proof of it, said Judge Hughes, pointing out that the crimes charged must have been committed between January 7, 1937 and January 7, 1939, in order to be considered.

early today. It was the first meeting of the council since outbreak of the European war.

Results of the meeting were announced in a communique which held that Italian "non-belligerency" had prevented the European war from spreading to the Mediterranean and southeastern Europe. The council enacted Italy's neutrality status into law. The communique said:

"The order of the day affirms immediate precedents. The ar is of a static siege character on the western front.

"Prevents Spread of Conflict"

"It's development, especially economically with blockade and counter-blockade and changes of the territorial situation as well as the balance for forces from the Mediterranean to the Carpathians, fully justifies the Sept. 1 decision of the council of ministers.

"This decision established 'non-belligerency,' which up until now has prevented the spread of the conflict to southeastern Europe and the Mediterranean.

"The grand council reaffirms this decision.

"In view of tendentious information from abroad, the grand council declares that the relations of Italy with Germany remain as fixed in the pact of alliance and the exchanges of views before and after the pact of Milan, Salzburg and Berlin.

"The council asserts that all that might occur in the basin of the Danube and in the Balkans cannot fail directly to interest Italy in view of the common territorial and maritime frontiers with these regions which have been extended by the union of Albania with Italy.

"Italy intends to safeguard her maritime traffic in the most explicit manner for her prestige and her indispensable necessities of life."

INVASION BY PARACHUTE NOT SO HOT

REPORTS that Russian soldiers dropping into Finland by means of parachutes from airplanes had been slain by angry Finns as they landed suggest that this strategy, long rehearsed by the Bolsheviks, has its drawbacks unless aimed at a remote and desolate region where the invaders would not be subject to immediate harassment by irate defenders.

For several years the Russians have practiced mass parachutings on the theory that whole regiments could be deposited from airplanes in enemy territory and make quick work of conquest. Soviet master minds seemed not to consider the fact that soldiers gently parachuting to earth make admirable targets for sharpshooters on the ground.

Furthermore, 'chutes have an annoying tendency to drag their voyagers and entangle them in a maze of rigging after they have landed. In such a predicament the parachuting soldier is about as free to carry out a "blitzkrieg" as a fish is to give battle when neatly encased in a landing net.

If the invasion-parachute technique is a flop, the Russians were guilty of a serious error of judgment in trying it out against such determined fighters and skilled marksmen as the outraged Finns.

CROCHETING

Mrs. E. N. Noble, of Minneapolis, seems like a nice person. She won the third annual national crochet contest with a filet banquet cloth, measuring 10½ by 6 feet. She said she had worked five and a half months on the cloth, from 12 to 18 hours a day. Her husband and four children helped with the housework so she could devote all her time to crocheting.

When asked how she had managed to complete such a work, which won the admiration of all who saw it, Mrs. Noble said: "I can't dance. I can't sing. So I did the only thing I can do—crochet."

Was there not a juggler in the Middle Ages who had no offering to bring The Virgin except his skill, which he demonstrated before her golden statue? This is an age refersed to with great pride as one of specialization. But how few persons are content to accept their limitations and make the most of whatever particular thing each happen to do best!

A REAL AIRDROME

Montana has a perfect airdrome—at least an airdrome which seems to have been made to order to comply with the laws of the United States to the letter.

This is how it is done: An American plane destined for Britain in the war must be paid for here in cash by Britain. But having become British property it cannot be flown by Britain from the United States over into Canada for further flight or shipment across the Atlantic. Craft of nations at war cannot legally be navigated in the air over the United States.

But there is no law against pushing or dragging that plane across the Canadian border. Britain has the legal right to buy the plane and the legal right to remove the plane to Canada so long as it is kept on the ground in this jurisdiction.

This Montana airdrome, at Sweetgrass, is located bang up against the Canadian border. The plane may be flown there, Britain buy it with cash inside the airdrome and the pilot can taxi to the north end of the airdrome, take off and so satisfy all the laws and the rules and regulations thereunto appertaining.

MORE CHEERFUL OUTLOOK

According to B. C. Forbes, who has been sounding the pulse of business throughout the country, there is a new optimism among business men regarding the outlook. "Away from the Atlantic coast, one hears less about Europp, its warfare, danger of our being inveigled into hostilities," he says.

He points out that most industries have become distinctly more active; agricultural prices have advanced, farmers' purchasing power has gained ground.

Leading men of affairs have been encouraged by the trend of public sentiment towards conservation. It has become more widely recognized that Washington must pay greater homage to economy, less to extravagance. Also, spreading opposition to governmental competition with private enterprise is heartening men of affairs.

"The majority of Middle-Westerners have, for some unexplained reason, concluded that Franklin D. Roosevelt is not to seek a new lease of power—and I rather think this assumption will prove justified.

"Anyway, despite the harrowing international ongoings, confidence that better times are in store for America is waxing," Mr. Forbes says.

What, by the way, ever became of the Dionne quintuplets and their day by day activities?

Morgenthau says he is not worried as the debt limit approaches. The worrying is left to the taxpayers and posterity.

"He proved a one-book man," says a critic. Well, aren't they all? The prolific ones just write the same book over with variations.

A research department comes tearing through with the announcement that a door nail isn't much more than half as dead as international law.

If they are conducting a war of nerves over in Europe, as the correspondents tell us then maybe defeat will come to the nation which first runs short of bromide.

AWAITING REPLY

The excitable fellow threatened to commit suicide every time a certain girl turned him down.

She refused him again the other night, and the next morning a messenger boy called at her house with this note:

"Darling—by the time you read this, my body will be floating down the river. Life without you is not worth while, so I cannot live any longer. Shed no tears over me, but just remember that I have always loved you. Goodbye forever."

The girl went as white as chalk and nearly fainted.

"He has killed himself!" she gasped.

Then she noticed that the messenger boy was still standing there, so she asked: "What are you waiting for?"

He said: "The gentleman what gave me the note said I was to wait for a reply."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GOOD TEACHERS CLOSE TO FAMILY CIRCLE

Often in this column we have considered ways whereby we parents might co-operate with the school and contribute to our child's successes there. Today we shall observe the teacher's opportunity to do most for her pupils by taking into account their family relationships and family lives.

Regardless of the pupil's family background, the first important consideration of the teacher is the home where lie the sources of the child's emotional life and learning interests.

No teacher can approach her best efficiency if she overlooks the pupil's family ties and if she does not prove to him that she has a very genuine human interest in them. The teacher is loved most, and for her the pupils work hardest and learn best, who makes them feel she cares about those things, which means most to them. Everything she says and does proves to her learners that she considers each of them a sacred personality; that she wants to know about the joys and sorrows of each one, and that she is always ready to listen to their intimate acccunts.

If his baby brother is ill, if his father has lost his job, if his grandmother lies at the point of death, the teacher is the one the pupil wants to tell about it, provided she is a great teacher. She will also be among the first to know if his father has enjoyed a promotion, if the family has acquired a new car or girl twins.

Perhaps the average teacher who does really care gives the impression that she doesn't. She has so many things to do. She feels the press of time and betrays a fear that she will not complete all she is supposed to do. She may be distracted by the modern mania for speed in the school system.

But the skillful, sympathetic teacher manages to organize her work so as not to neglect its human side. She doesn't penalize those pupils who arrive early in the morning for the opportunity to talk to her, by assigning them some extra work to keep them quiet. She takes time to talk to them, knowing it is a rare opportunity for her to do so. She finds time for things of more importance than spelling, history and algebra.

Teacher training in the future will consider ways and means of welcoming and meeting parents, and in cultivating in them wholesome interests and attitude toward the school.

The best teacher reads books on home and family relationships, child care, training, and guildance. She is an active member of the P. T. A. She attends its meetings, goes to get as well as to give and to learn about her pupil's homes and loved ones. She doesn't merely teach readin', writin' and 'rithmetic. She teaches children, children who are human beings, with individual personalities.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SUCH IGNORANCE!

The benightedness of the savage tribes, a subject frequently discoursed upon by returning missionaries in the pulpits of our churches, is accepted as a matter of course by most of us. With small realization of the extent of their ignorance. Dr. Ruth Benedict, in her recent book, "Patterns of Civilization," gives us some surprising indications of the appalling extent to which this exists.

For instance, Dr. Benedict attempted to discuss war with the Eskimos. She found them so deplorably backward that "the idea of an Eskimo village going out against another Eskimo village in battle array, or a tribe against a tribe, or even of another village being fair game in ambush warfare, is alien to them. All killing comes under one head, and it is not separated as ours is, into categories, the one meritorious, the other a capital offense!

Even more astounding was the lack of erudition displayed to Dr. Benedict by the Mission Indians of California. She found that to talk with them of war was impossible. They did not have the basis in their own culture upon which the idea could exist, and their attempts to reason it out reduced the great wars to which we dedicate ourselves with moral fervor, to the level of "alley brawls."

Clearly somebody has been negligent in educating these backward people. They know not the beauty of mass slaughter in the name of ideology, or the high sanctity of race ratred, or the sublime verity of power politics. They are unaware of the grandeur of sacrifice in keeping up great armaments. They still have the ignorant belief that a given word is to be respected and a promise to be kept.

Where have our missionaries and teachers been? It is high time somebody hurried to carry to these savages the high blessings of civilization.

Toonerville Folks — BY FONTAINE FOX

(© 1939, by Fontaine Fox)

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:33. Sun rises tomorrow 7:12.

Rubber bathing suits are promised for next year. They will be processed not to split and made to look like everything they ain't. That not splitting feature will be very important.

Right now there are over one million employes in the executive department of the government. This is about double as many as were on the payroll when President Roosevelt took office. Even a lot of Democrats don't like this, of course mostly those who are not on the payroll.

Anyhow, we are glad there will be only one Christmas this year. Two Thanksgivings sure muddle things up.

AMATEUR FARMER

John had become the proud owner of a pig, and insisted on caring for it himself.

After a few weeks, his father noticed that the animal did not appear to thrive, and remarked: "John, you're not feeding your pig enough. It doesn't seem to be fattening at all."

"I don't want to fatten him yet," answered John. "I'm waiting until he gets as long as I want him, then I'll begin to widen him out."

We wonder if deer hunting is worth the lives it costs.

The prisons remind us that the way things are going in this country is a crime.

DUMB RECRUIT

A drill sergeant was drilling the recruit squad in the use of the rifle. All went smoothly until blank cartridges were distributed. The recruits were instructed to load their pieces and stand at "ready," and then the sergeant gave the command:

"Fire at will!"

Private Lunn was puzzled. He lowered his gun.

"Which one is Will?" he asked.

A local girl has found that not only can a broken heart be mended but it is stronger than ever.

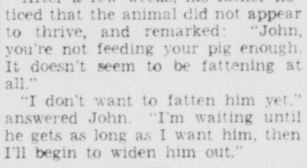
And by the way, some terrible fruit cakes are also being constructed at this time of the year. They have to be made weeks before Christmas so they will not be so fatal when it comes time to eat 'em.

Office boy: "I et six eggs for breakfast.

Bookkeeper: "You mean ate, don't you?"

Office boy: "Well, maybe it was eight I et."

Advice to slot machine players: "If at first you don't succeed, don't be a sap."



You can get your favorite dish in every little restaurant in America if it happens to be that kind of greasy gravy.

And if you're not too depressed you'll remember that prosperity often has its headaches.

Many automobiles stand on the streets in this city all night long. This often happens when the owners have garages. Wonder what would happen if some would get smashed some night while they are standing on the wrong side of the streets with no lights burning?

Two fat girls talking—one said to the other:

"We may be fat, but we look as good as the skinny girls."

LAST STRAW

For a long time things have been running smoothly in a home. The domestic bliss of the family is remarked by the whole neighborhood. Never a cross word had passed between them until one morning the wife came to the breakfast table in tears.

"Jim," she said to her husband. "We have lived together for fifteen happy years. Never have I had occasion to remonstrate with you about anything. But let me tell you something, Jim. If I ever dream again that I saw you hugging another woman, I'll never speak to you again as long as I live."

A girl learning to ride a horse said she never knew anything filled with hay could ride so hard.

It was after the housemaid fell in love with mother's vanishing cream that they named it that.

Funny, but we never hear of any hunter who returns without a buck. Those who do get one always tell how many points are on it.

The wars in Europe have caused the price of imported mouth organs to go up. Wars are often some good after all.

HEART THROB

Sent in by a local poet:

"There are bells that have a peeling beauty, of the kind that knows no flaw; but the belle that's worth the ringing, peels potatoes for her ma."

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

It seems to me that the impatient shopper manifests more bad taste than any other breed of vulgarians I meet. I observed one today. She was short and broad and stumpy. She shouldered her way through the aisles until she reached the counter where her purchase was to be made. Here she elbowed herself between others lining the counter, on which she tapped to register impatience. The salesgirl, pretty and refined, tried to pacify her with a "one moment, please, and I'll be with you." "Well, make it snappy," quoth the boor, who asided to those around her. "Some service at this counter!" The girl behind the counter was doing her best knowing that she was to be the brunt of blame for delay caused by the slowness of several customers in making up their minds. "I'll report her if she makes me miss my train," growled the pusher.

The customer is always right? Too often rude! A salesgirl who can remain always calm at a busy counter displaying women's wear will do well in the diplomatic service, now becoming a haven for career women.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: I am going to buy a table lamp for my living room. White lamps are now very much in vogue. Are they appropriate for any kind of room?—Mrs. K. N.

Answer: White lamps should be used in pale rooms only. To be effective, they must be very carefully chosen. If your room is sombre, do not buy a white lamp. One that carries out the colors of your rug or hangings will very likely be more appropriate.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Waist and Hip Problems.

When there is a tax argument in the city council chamber it gives the voters a good idea as to the men who should be elected to council.

We heard of a Democrat who cried when he did not get an appointment he wanted. We did not hear him, but we heard a lot of other Dems cuss vociferously because they did not get it.

A few years ago the treasury department at Washington printed one entire sheaf of bank notes $100 on one side and $50 on the other. A dozen bank cashiers nearly committed suicide trying to count their money. Perhaps the fellow in Idaho who painted one side of his car green and the other side red got his idea from the government's mistake. When friends asked him why he did it he explained that he enjoyed hearing the witnesses contradict themselves everytime he had an accident.

The Nobel Peace Prize should be awarded to Pope Pius XII. He surely has done more to bring peace in Europe than all the other peace lovers put together.

A man celebrates his golden wedding in 50 years, while the chap divorced celebrates every night.

The Pittsburgh police have found that finger printing house to house canvassers has reduced burglary and prowling about 60 per cent. Not a bad idea.

ACROSS THE SEA

A wealthy man with whom we have a nodding acquaintance hailed us on the street the other day.

"You newspaper chaps are pretty well informed," he said. "Can you tell me if people over in England understand American slang?"

"Some of them do, but it is Greek to others," we replied. "Why do you ask, anyhow?"

"It's my daughter," he explained. "She is about to be married to a British baron and he has sent me a cable asking me to come across for the wedding."

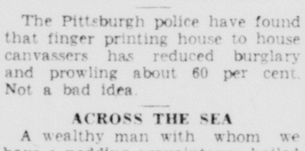
A prominent U. S. senator, Democrat of course, says President Roosevelt is the only one who can attract the progressives. He may be able to do that, but he cannot handle all the Democrats. Those progressive birds have only succeeded in making things worse in this country.

A Pittsburgh man, rather than go to jail, agreed to kiss his wife once a day and quit drinking. No doubt his wife would rather have him in jail than face a breath like he has every day.

They say it is impossible to flood all of Holland, but no doubt Germany will liquidate the rest.

Here is one that is off the record, emanating from Miss Flossie Fernfrill's Beauty Shoppe:

Under many lovely clinging curls there often is an unwashed neck.



If it makes us hide our faults, it is vanity; if it makes us cure them, it is pride.

Our old friend used to say this: "Brethren, remember there would be no gossipers if there were no listeners."

A young couple was strolling when an airplane drove into sight overhead.

"That's a mail plane," announced the young man.

"But at such a dstance, how can you tell?" asked the young woman.

RARE AND RACY

It's a wonder Solomon ever managed to fall asleep with the thousand or so things he had on his mind.

A man will pick up the wrong hat and fail to recognize his own car, but he will "identify" a suspect he saw for ten seconds six months ago.

Foreigner Needs Much In Berlin

(International News Service)

BERLIN.—Cateyes and easy tempers plus fat wallets are essentials of daily life in a war capital such as Berlin, where foreigner and native alike must knuckle down under military and economic precautionary measures.

Cat-eyes are welcome to defeat the wintry dark which rules Berlin at night because of the blackout for a misstep means barked shins or a stumble and painful fall. Ambulances cruise back and forth to haul off the many who suffer severe accidents or traffic smashes.

Easy tempers in preference to short ones nowadays save much trouble with beleaguered officials, air defense foremen, landlords, traffic police, store help and restaurant waiters. They are all busy and understaffed and arguments increase the sharpness of tempers while usually getting nowhere.

The great game for foreigners is to cruis around amongst themselves swapping such delicacies or luxuries as real coffee for real butter, canned beans for chocolate or the like. Those who have importing privileges—chiefly the diplomats—alone can afford to live well. The thing to do for the resident foreigner is to wrangle as many lunch and dinner invitations among his diplimatic friends as possible. Otherwise his morniing coffee—if any—consists of a brew distilled from roasted barley, paled to a muddy color by thin skimmed milk.

The foreigner remaining in Berlin is the one who is getting stuck both ways. He has to eat in the best class hotels, most of which immediately took advantage of the situation and raised prices one hundred percent. Ration cards must be shown and are cliped for every bite of meat and butter, so that vegetarian dishes and fish course are the thing.

A lunch at the Adlon with an ordinary soup, fish and dessert without drinks, came to eleven marks or approximately $4.50. A shoemaker asked 65 marks for a pair of shoes which had some fairly good leather soles to them. The same kind of shoes can be bought in Americia for $5 to $6.

Many foreign residents in Berlin have abandoned appartments and houses to live in hotels, although the cost is twofold. The reason is that marketing conditions, domestic help and heating problems have become increasingly difficult. Most households, at least the American ones, have also been disolved because 90 per cent of those Americans remaining behind for business reasons have sent their families out of the country.

The American embassy is on of the busier ones nowadays in Berlin, since it handles the French and English affairs.

The Germans, on the whole, continue their courteous treatment of neutral foreigners here but naturally there is an official restraint in relations between Wilhelmstrasse and official American quarters as a result of what Germans regard as America's pro-Allied attitude.

Old American films have been dug up to remedy the lack of German films so that once in a while resident Americans can see and hear Hollywood's output as a consolation for the steak they did not get that night.

The Great Game Of Politics

A Duplicated Situation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.

JUST about this time last year, it will be recalled, there emanated from Washington many newspaper columns concerning the President's inclination toward conservatism and the fact that he was listening more increasingly to Counselors of the Right. While he resented the word "appeasement" he was represented as being desirous of cooperating with instead of castigating business.

MR. HOPKINS, then slated for Secretary of Commerce, and very close personally to the President, was described as anxious to command business confidence and to be full of plans to bring about better relations between businessmen and the Government. All the principal stooges on the Businessmen's Advisory Committee sang in the same key and Mr. Roosevelt had various leading industrialists and conservative financiers visit him, by invitation. There was talk of economy, cutting governmental costs and budget balancing.

LEADING newspapers in New York and elsewhere broke out in editorials urging businessmen to cooperate, talking about the "new atmosphere," the "olive branch" and so forth and so on. Everything, in fact, seemed lovely until the young radicals of the "inner circle" went into action. They pleaded with Mr. Roosevelt "not to let the people down," told him that his liberal friends felt they were about to be betrayed, insisted that he was being taken into camp by his enemies, and that economy would mean disaster.

IT took little more than ten days of this sort of work to swing the President around, the net result being that all "appeasement" plans were scrapped and the Administration flung at Congress another gigantic spending-lending pump-priming program. In addition Mr. Roosevelt defied it to cut appropriations and left Mr. Hopkins and his business stooges in a state of stupefied futility and frustration.

THERE are, at the moment, certain signs that this whole performance may be duplicated. For weeks past, Washington publicity has been along the lines of the President's desire to go along with the Treasury heads in their effort not to discourage business by new taxation. It has been asserted, too, that it is Mr. Roosevelt's purpose to conciliate the conservative Democrats in Congress and avoid all controversial issues in the coming session. This is exactly the same tune which was being sung just before the last session began, and it seems to be getting the same reaction from the radicals.

ONE element among them is dead set against any paring down of relief appropriations, pointing out that despite the business boom, there still are nine million unemployed and two and one-half million on WPA rolls. Another group, according to usually well-informed persons, have plans for more regulation and general bedevilment of the public utilities. Partly this is to come from the SEC and partly from the National Power Policy Committee, of which the ineffable Mr. Ickes is the head and Mr. Benjamin Cohen, of the Corcoran-Cohen team, the brain.

BETWEEN now and the convening of Congress their journalistic reflectors indicate that a drive is to be made by the inner circlers to show Mr. Roosevelt what they think of the absurdity of his present conciliatory attitude, and get him—first, to abandon his idea of cutting relief or any other appropriation; second, to induce him to discard Treasury advice and advocate a stiff war profits tax to care for the defense appropriations; third, to acquiesce in another disciplinary campaign against the utilities.

OF COURSE, it is impossible to tell what the President will do, but we do know that in the past every time there has been a similar test of strength between his right and left wing advisers the latter have won. In the whole record of the past seven years there has not been a single instance where the conservatives have held him. They always get him first, but they lose him on the last hurdle. Perhaps it will be different this time, but there is not much reason to think so. An indication of the feeling among the young radicals was given the other day when a New Deal columnist who uniformly reflects their views contemptuously wrote of the present Roosevelt program that was inadequate and colorless.

HOW TO BE A DICTATOR

Frighten the man who dares to think.
Kill if he dares to speak.
Stop the free flow of printers' ink.
Vengeance on foemen wreak.

Set spies in every room and hall,
At every gate and door;
Keep soldiers at your beck and call,
Imprison more and more

Banish the friend who says: "Beware!"
Crush freedom at its source.
A confidence with no one share.
Put all your trust in force.

Drill childhood till it aches with pain.
Mercy to all refuse.
If a dictatorship you'd gain,
These are the means to use.

Allies Facing Invisible Foe On West Front

Big Defending Army Can Resist Attackers Without Showing Selves

MECHANISM CAN FIRE OFF PIECES

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN.—British Tommies and French Poilus, should a major onslaught against the Siegfried Line transpire, will not glimpse a single German soldier above ground the whole length of the frontier during the roar of battle.

A million steel-helmeted and gray clad Heinies and Fritzies man the underground positions of steel and cement along the Belgian Luxembourg and French borders on the German side.

However the hidden system of fortified webs is so extensive and multiple that every type of weapon can be brought into use against attackers by the million soldiers in the first main network of the Siegfried Line without forcing one of them to fight in the open.

Every approach across the borders is covered and every foot toward any point of the Siegfried Line can draw an avalanche of fire that devastates human life and steel tank of every size.

When artillery fire thunders in endless quantity above the low flygin turrets, the eight to forty-five men in the small and large pillboxes can clamp shut every firing slit and go downstairs to their comfortable quarters to listen to the radio.

Automatic Devices

In many cases, they can press a button and automatically set their weapons atop to firing, aimed and reloaded by intricate mechanical devices which practically turn the Siegfried Line in part into one manned by robots. Water and air are filtered into the pillbox by special machinery buried far below the pentrating capacity of any shell.

Mechanical "eyes" in the form of telescopes from vantage points watch every outside action and all firing and activity by soldiers within the pillboxes is directed from some nerve center. Each nerve center spreads to a bigger one stage by stage until it merges into the main keypoint known as the "Oberkommando" for that sector, which in turn is in steady communication with the High Command.

On my trip through the Westwall, where I saw every worthwhile angle including numerous secret weapons, it was obvious that much care had been taken in building the Siegfried Line to keep communications going at all times everywhere. Every pillbox has its telephone for direct connection to its "nerve center" and every telephone cable lies forty feet deep. There is also a complete emergency communication network, in addition to radio communication in the "nerve centers."

Protective Precautions

The welfare of the soldier has been thought of to the last degree. Should poison gas seep in somehow, each pillbox will counteract it through its own ventilation system while rubber suits are available in case of mustard gas. Each pillbox also has a disinfectant chamber for mustard gas contact alone.

Each unit furthermore has its small electric kitchen with enough food supply for months. Each unit can give full first-aid to those badly wounded. Narrow and large tunnels lead out of the small and large pillboxes so that no man need feel himself trapped in any of them and the exits are far behind some heavily defended hill slope on sheltered section.

Each pillbox has as great a supply of munition as is considered necessary for the longest sustained battle that could conceivably develop and weapons can be repaired on the spot.

Business Index Is Stationary

First Time Since August That Index Has Not Shown Upward Trend

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—For the first time since early August, the index of business in the Pittsburgh district failed to show an upward trend last week, it was reported today by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh.

The index remained at the 132.9 per cent level of 1923-25 average for two weeks, the bureau stated, adding:

"It should be noted, however, that the rise since August has been exceedingly rapid and that the index is holding at record levels."

The adjusted index of production advanced slightly, it was indicated, while the gain in iron and steel production just about balanced the drop in electric power and bituminous coal production. Although river shipments increased last week, the carloadings of coal and miscellaneous products reflected a decline considerably larger than normal according to the bureau.

Highway Bridge Barricade Ordered

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—A steel girder bridge carrying state highway Route No. 25056 above the Pennsylvania Railroad about four miles north of Corry, Erie county was barricaded today upon order of the Public Utility Commission.

The commission instructed the department of highways to close off the bridge until such time as the structure has been repaired "in a manner satisfactory to the commission."

A hearing was fixed for Wednesday, Dec. 27, at 10 a. m. in the Erie courthouse for the purpose of determining the extent of repairs necessary, who should be required to furnish the materials and do the work and who should be made responsible for the future maintenance of the bridge.

Knox In Favor Of Late Parley

Would Have Republican National Convention After Democrats Meet

MUST KNOW WHO 'DEMS' NOMINATE

By DARRELL GARWOOD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Col. Frank Knox today took an emphatic stand for holding the 1940 Republican national convention after the Democrats have met to pick their platform and presidential candidate.

Col. Knox, who was the G. O. P. candidate for vice president in 1936, also described as an "obvious bluff" President Roosevelt's suggestion that both 1940 political conventions be held later than usual.

"I am emphatically in favor of holding our convention after the Democrats have held theirs," Col. Knox said in an interview. "To act intelligently, we must know who the Democrats have nominated (for president) and on what platform he will run.

"I hope the Republican national committee will not fall for the obvious bluff of Roosevelt and Farley. The Democrats need a long campaign to heal their sores far more than we do. Our party is united; theirs is divided."

Holding the G. O. P. convention after that of the Democrats would reverse precedent and, especially if the Democratic convention is later than usual, as the president suggested, shorten the presidential campaign.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A large number of friends and relatives gathered in the American Legion Home recently when a committee tendered Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rowe a miscellaneous shower. The main diversions of the evening was dancing and cards after which a lovely lunch was served by the committee. They received a beautiful selection of gifts to adorn their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe have since gone to Harrisburg where the former is employed with the Revenue Department as an addressograph operator.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, and children, Jack and Lola Jean, of Walnut street, Bessemer, and Frank Shook of New Castle were honored guests at a birthday supper in honor of Mrs. John Davidson and Mr. Shook at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon of Mahoningtown, after which a large group of friends and relatives gathered in surprise fashion and spent the evening in social chat and cards. This was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Betty. The honored guests received some very beautiful gifts.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Presbyterian Church—Sunday school at 9:45. P. W. Griffin, general superintendent; Frank B. Beale, superintendent of primary department; Men's Community Bible class at 10; morning service in a form of dedication service of the new organ. The service will largely be taken up with a recital. Junior and intermediate Christian Endeavor Society at 6. There will be no Senior Christian Endeavor due to the District Sunday School Convention at Mt. Jackson. Rev. Raymond M. Touvell, pastor.

Swedish Mission Church—C. Emil Carlson Sunday school superintendent. Sunday school at 10; evening evangel at 7:30 p.m.

Italian Pentecostal Mission—Mike DiSantis, superintendent; Sunday school at 1:30 and worship service and sermon at 2:30 with Mr. Andrew Fusco of New Castle leading the delivering of the discourse.

St. Anthony Roman Catholic Church—Early mass at 9:00 and late mass at 10:30 will be observed and celebrated with Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Young, the celebrant in charge of the devotions.

QUARTER CENTURY OF SERVICE

A quarter century of service on the Bessemer Borough Council was brought to a close, when Elmer B. Manewal, retired from council at the December meeting. A token of appreciation for his long years of service he was given a vote of recognition by the council members. Prior to being elected to council, he served a short term on the Bessemer board of education and has therefore been connected with local civic affairs from the time of the incorporation of the borough. His retirement called for many reminiscences of early borough history. A man of many interests, he has always been active in many circles. Among other things, he was for a number of years the town photographer, and he has in his collections hundreds of plates, covering practically all phases of the early community life. Though retiring from council, Mr. Manewal is not relinquishing his activities, inasmuch as he will continue in the capacity of borough assessor.

BESSEMER NOTES

Miss Florence Anderson of South Main street was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital and submitted to an operation for appendicitis.

William Hedegore who has been a patient in the Jameson Memorial hospital for a number of days was discharged and able to return to his home after undergoing treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bartolone have just received word of the arrival of a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Errera and daughter at Pittsburgh.

W. D. Groce is improving very nicely at his home.

K. O. Club

Mrs. Findley Boyd of Marylard avenue was hostess to the K. O club, Thursday evening.

Prizes for 500 were won by Mrs. Paul Blair and Mrs. Harry Reese, the special guests. Another guest was Mrs. McFeters.

Lunch was served later, with Mrs Clair Uber assisting the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Claude Humble, Adams street.

LOVELY PARTY FOR J. F. F. MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. Forbie Pitzer, Jr., Mt. Jackson road, arranged a lovely Christmasy table setting for the serving of a holiday lunch served to members of the J. F. F. club Thursday evening, when she entertained informally at her home. A hand carved Yule log with five glowing candles formed the centerpiece.

Earlier, cards were in play, prizes going to Mrs Cecil Myers and Mrs. John Daly. The galloper fell to Mrs. William J. Davis.

Plans were made for their annual Christmas party on Monday, December 18, at The Castleton, while on January 4 the regular assembly will take place in the home of Mrs. Joseph Todd, East Washington street.

Harbor Garden Club

Members of the Harbor Junior Garden club will hold a Christmas party Saturday afternoon, December 9, at the home of Betty and Grace Matthews, of the Harbor.

Ritz Club

Members of the Ritz club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Frank Boran of Moravia street, on Wednesday evening. Games were played, prizes going to Mrs. James Barlett and Mrs. Curtis Guckert. The club token was awarded to Mrs. James Bongivengo.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas party to be held in the home of Mrs. Albert DePalmo of Morton street, on December 20. "Big sister" names were drawn for that day.

At a later hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Albert DePalmo and Mrs. Fred Farone.

The next meeting is on December 20.

G. G. G. Club Meeting

Members of the G. G. G. club met in the home of Anna McHattie of Ashland avenue, for their regular assembly last night, with cards as the diversion. Prizes fell to Vera Sweet, Bette Delph and Peggy Bartley. A special guest was Dolly Stritzinger. A social period ensued.

The next meeting will be with Twila McElroy, December 21, and will be in the nature of a Christmas party.

Saturday

Daughters of 1812, Mrs. W. H. Luikart, Meyer avenue.

Harbor Junior Garden, Billy and Ruth Cox, hosts.

Kupple Kard, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Kemp, Rose avenue.

P. F. F. CLUB HAS TEA ROOM MEETING

P. F. F. club members were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. P. J. Callahan, King avenue, at a cleverly planned Christmas party in a down town tea room.

Cards were featured and the winners were Mrs. Callahan, Mrs. Fred Conzett, Mrs. Jessie Stenger and the traveling trophy went to Mrs. Henry Navarra. A dainty repast was served.

December 21 is the date of the next session to be with Mrs. Henry Navarra, Lutton street.

Bible Class Meets

Members of the Men's and Ladies' Bible class of the Bethany Lutheran church, met Thursday evening in the parlor of the church.

Mrs. C. E. Hilyard was in charge of the Ladies' class. Reports of the year were given. Officers were elected: President, Mrs. Edna Kirkwood; vice president, Mrs. C. E. Hilyard; secretary, Mrs. Lee Overmoyer; treasurer, Mrs. Hyle Otto; teachers, Mrs. Carrie Scott and Mrs. Lee Overmoyer.

A social period followed with Mrs. Ed Kelly, Mrs. Edna Kirkwood and Mrs. C. E. Hilyard in charge.

Red Cross Will Accept Funds For War Relief

Dire Need Exists Among Finnish And Polish Refugees, Chairman Davis States

TO USE FUND FOR THAT SOLE PURPOSE

Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, is in receipt of a telegram from Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American National Red Cross, asking that the local chapter accept funds which will be used for relief of Finnish and Polish refugees who have been rendered homeless and in dire circumstances because of the recent invasion of these countries.

The local chapter has made arrangements to accept funds for these purposes, which will be forwarded immediately to Washington for transmissal to Finland and Poland relief.

The telegram of Mr. Davis follows:

Ralph Davis, chm. Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross
39 North Beaver Street

In addition to war relief needs already being met by American Red Cross, invasion of Finland has created additional widespread suffering among thousands of helpless men, women and children, which will become increasingly tragic as winter advances. There are urgent needs for medical, hospital and other supplies and assistance. Red Cross has already made initial shipments, but needs funds for future increasing needs. Will you please at once give effective publicity that American Red Cross will receive and administer contributions designated for Finnish relief, and all funds so designated will be applied wholly to that purpose. Urge you take steps secure generous response for Finnish relief. Also inform public American Red Cross continues to welcome contributions designated for relief of Polish war sufferers of all other nations already involved in conflict. Norman H. Davis, Chairman."

TYPEWRITER STILL NEEDED FOR VETERAN

Apparently typewriters are not a drug on the market. Recently, an appeal was issued by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, for a typewriter for the use of a World War Veteran, who was recently incapacitated due to injuries, but no response has been received to this request as yet.

If no one is able to donate a typewriter, the Chapter would like to secure the loan of one for a time, so that this man can rehabilitate himself and perhaps be able to earn a livelihood.

Veteran Miner Taken By Death

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8—Thomas Fagan, father of Patrick T. Fagan, president of district five, United Mine Workers of America died in a hospital here late last night. It was reported today. He was 78.

A coal miner for 55 years, Fagan was affiliated with the Knights of Labor prior to 1890 when the labor movement in the coal field was just beginning. He was a master workman in the organization. Later when the UMW organized the coal fields and as his son Patrick rose to the top of the organization, Fagan became increasingly active with the UMW. He will be buried at Irwin on Monday.

Army Kettles Will Appear

Salvation Army Christmas Fund Appeal To Start Saturday

"KEEP POT BOILING" URGE TO CITIZENS

One of the most familiar sights of our towns and cities at Christmas time is The Salvation Army kettle. An attractive lassie stands by, ringing the bell and bidding all passers by to "Keep the Pot Boiling" with a generous contribution. The money is used to buy food, clothing and toys for the deserving families and their children. Last year the Army served 446,467 Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners and gave away 374,270 toys.

The use of the kettle at Christmas time by The Salvation Army dates back to early December of 1897 when Major William A. McIntyre, newly arrived in Boston, was confronted with the task of feeding a great army of depression-ravished persons on Christmas Day.

Start Of Program

Faced with this emergency of raising a large sum of money in a brief time, Major McIntyre proposed the use of the Christmas kettles at the street corners. His fellow workers were skeptical of what the results would be, but at the end of the day each attendant averaged seven dollars an hour for each kettle. Within two days large numbers of kettles were on the streets, and on Christmas Day dinners were provided for all of Boston's needy.

From that beginning the kettles have spread into every community reached by The Salvation Army and each year brings happiness to hundreds of thousands who otherwise would face hunger and a cheerless holiday.

Will Start Saturday

In the good old days many prominent citizens helped by standing at the kettles and soliciting from their friends. The Salvation Army in this city is confident that the good citizens will again rally to the aid of those that need their support. Beginning with Saturday, December 9, and continuing until Christmas the cheery lassies will be standing at the kettles and we trust that your donation will help to "Keep the Pot Boiling".

If you are considering mailing your donation please send it to Box 447, is the request of Capt. and Mrs. Carl Andreason, officers in charge here.

DICKINSON DEAN IS AID TO CUPID

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 8—Josephine B. Meredith, dean of women at Dickinson college, is acquiring quite a reputation as "cupid" through her "blind date bureau" which she has organized for the benefit of the women's colleges in this vicinity.

Dean Meredith arranged for almost a score of Dickinson college men to "beau" women at a Hood college dance about a month ago and recently arranged for 30 students to escort Wilson college women at their annual frosh-soph dance.

Classes In Home Hygiene Are Being Formed By Chapter

Registration Is Being Taken For Classes To Start After Holidays

Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross is making plans for classes in home hygiene and care of the sick for the coming year. These classes will not open until after the holiday season, but registrations should be made at an early date so that arrangements may be completed for the instruction of these classes.

The work in the home hygiene and care of the sick department of the local chapter has been completely reorganized under the direction of national headquarters and brought up to national's requirements. The proposed course is far more interesting than the past courses have been and should prove instructive as well as interesting.

Any man or woman, 18 years of age or older, may register. In many chapters the most interesting home hygiene classes are those composed of men and it is the hope of the Lawrence county board that a group of men may be organized for this instruction. A modified course for the junior membership is being considered and if plans materialize this course in home hygiene will be as popular as the modified first aid course given during the last winter. All interested people desiring to enroll should contact the office at their earliest convenience.

Hunt For Killer Of Dr. Engelberg

Authorities Differ Slightly Over Possible Motives For Crime

G-MEN CHIEF IS MAKING PROBE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—With investigative authorities slightly at odds over motive for the crime, search for the killer of Dr. Walter Engleberg, first secretary of the Germn consulate-general, was extended today to Miami, Fla., where efforts were made to locate a second-rate pugilist, one of two men named as suspects by police.

Motive for the murder still remained obscure, known possibly only to the actual killer. Dr. Manuel E. Marten, police medical examiner, declared that Engelberg had engaged in Nazi secret service and espionage activities and suggested the motive could be found in Engelberg's under-cover operations.

Against that, police were working on a revenge theory, stemming from frequent visits to the Engelberg home by male friends. Women, the neighbors said, never were seen there.

Of the two men being sought, police released only one name, incomplete to the press. They named him as "——— Haas", a small-time preliminary boxer whose professional efforts, apparently had brought him to fame beyond the New York night clubs. Haas is the man for whom Miami police have been asked to search.

Arrival of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, emphasized international aspects on the case despite Hoover's disclaimer that his visit was other than "routine". Reports persisted that Hoover would prepare a detailed report for federal authorities, destined first for the German embassy in Washington, then possibly the German foreign office in Berlin.

Hear Truckers' Head Tonight

STATE PRESIDENT HOWARD GIBBS AND SAFETY GROUP

Howard D. Gibbs of Pittsburgh president of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association, shown above, will be guest of honor of the Lawrence county chapter of the association at a banquet in The Castleton tonight.

The dinner opens a new "safety-courtesy" campaign of the local truckers. This afternoon a mile-long parade of motor trucks through the downtown and South Side dramatically heralded it to the citizenry.

Between 150 and 200 dinner guests will hear Gibbs and see the handsome safety cup the Pennsylvania state group won in the most recent national safety contest. The cup is shown.

Edward Gogolin, general manager of the P. M. T. A. from Harrisburg, and a large Pittsburgh group are expected to attend. Paul W. Keely, local chapter president, will preside.

GIRL SCOUTS OF NEW CASTLE INC.

TROOP 6

Girl Scouts of troop 6 held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Highland school.

Games were played and patrol corners were held. Interest groups were formed and the hostess badge was started, others worked on scrap books and stories for sick children, which are to be taken to the hospital soon.

Christmas carols were sung, followed by taps.

Scribe, Betty Lou Carlson.

TROOP 8 MEETING

Girl Scouts of Troop 8 held a meeting in the First United Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening.

A song period was held at which time Ann Carroll taught the girls a new song. The Scouts went to their patrols and worked on badges.

Lillian Adams and Louise Lauer were invested, receiving their pins from Miss Hanna and being welcomed into the troop. Relay races brought the meeting to a close.

Schibe, Jeanne Hastings.

HOLOCHE TROOP 12

Holoche troop 12 gathered Wednesday evening for their regular session and formed plans for Christmas caroling, a trip to the fire department and hike for the younger girls and plans for the completion of the older girls' second class work. An additional group laid plans to work on their dramatic badges. The meeting closed with taps.

On November 29, Loretta Morganti entertained in her home on Lutton street at a tureen dinner party at 6 for troop 12. Part of the food was prepared by the girls. The hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. Richard Morganti.

At this time, eight new girls received their tenderfoot pins: Audrey Mooney, Patricia Palus, Elaine Rowe, Ruth Arrow, Marian Conner Betty Lutz, Olive Jean Hale and Deloras DiLillo.

TROOP 2 MEETING

Girl Scouts of Troop 2 held a meeting on December 6, in the Ben Franklin Junior High school building.

The girls spent a portion of the time carving soap and singing songs. Miss Montgomery, the troop leader, told the girls about their Christmas party to be held on December 19.

Games were played and taps sung to close the meeting.

Scribe, Anna Singer.

SINUS TROUBLE AFFECTS OLD AND YOUNG ALIKE

In many parts of the country sinusitis is fairly common. This painful affliction is a complication that frequently follows head colds, and so I suppose this is the reason why inhabitants of the northeastern sections of the country suffer most from sinus trouble. In these localities—particularly around the Great Lakes—head colds are prevalent during a great part of the year.

In general, sinus trouble isn't hard to diagnose. It usually makes itself known by an intense pain either over the eyes or under them However, I have had people come in to see me suffering from headaches or who complained that the whole side of the face arched. Often these turn out to be sufferers of inflamed sinuses.

The word "sinus" means any cavity in the body, but with general use the term has come to refer to the sinuses of the head. The main ones of these are the frontal sinuses over the eyes and the antrums, which are formed by each cheek bone. The middle ear is also a sinus and it too suffers from painful complications as the result of infections in the head.

Normally these sinuses of the head are just empty cavities in the bone. But when some part of the body suffers from infection and part of the discharge gets into the sinus, then we have trouble. Inflammation sets in, pus gathers, the pressure within the cavity grows greater and greater and that is why we get those intense pains. One who hasn't suffered from these pains just can't imagine how bad they are.

Sinusitis may be caused by literallly dozen of infectious diseases. The sinuses are connected with the nasal cavity by tubular passages and so any infection in the nose and throat may find its way to them through those passages. That is why we know it most as a disease which follows other infections. A person suffering from any of the following ailments may contract sinusitis by the spreading of the infection to the sinuses: scarlet fever, measles, pneumonia, influenza, typhoid fever, diphtheria, smallpox, erysipelas, mumps, social diseases and tuberculosis.

You can see what a common complaint sinusitis is bound to be and how it is likely to affect young and old alike. I have known the disease to strike a person who seemed otherwise quite healthy. Very often in such cases a person with a diseased antrum will be found to have been infected by a bad tooth. This is because the roots of one of the upper teeth reach almost to the floor of the antrum.

In cold weather head colds are almost inevitable, and when you do get them they hang on and on. With this infection present so long in the nose and throat, it is just a matter of time before the sinuses are involved.

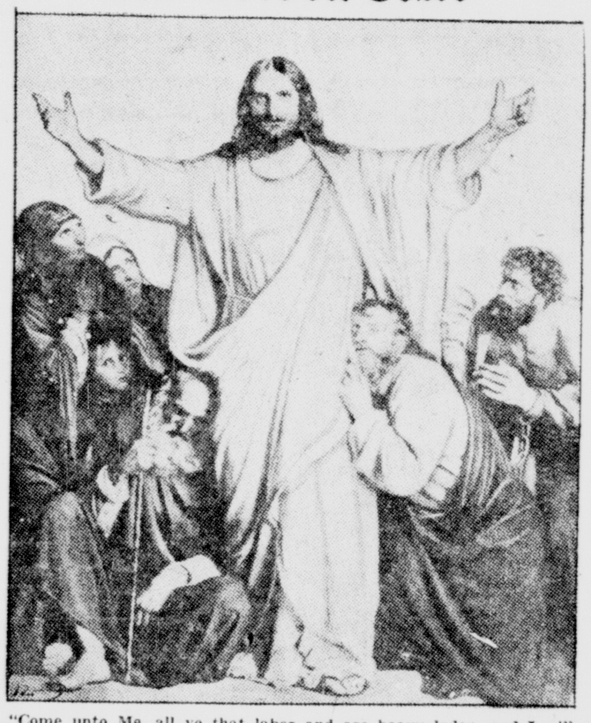
Reactions To The Good News

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."—Matthew 11:28-30.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Dec. 10 is Matthew 11 and 12, the Golden Text being Matthew 11:28-30, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.")

In our previous lesson we have seen how Jesus went about doing good, healing the sick, raising the dead, preaching the Good Tidings. In last week's lesson He sent His disciples out to spread the Good News. But soon He perceived that although the people were filled with wonder at His miracles, they refused to believe that He was the Christ, and to turn from their evil ways and lead good lives.

Especially was this true of the richer people. Jesus likened those who heard His word and heeded it not to a lot of children playing in the market place and calling to the others to play wedding, but they refused to dance and play; or to play funeral, where, in those days, hired mourners walked behind the coffin, weeping and beating their breasts. But the children refused to play that either. Of those who hated and maligned Him, said Jesus, when John the Baptist came, "neither eating nor drinking, and they say, he hath a devil.

Called Him Gluttonous

"The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners." But said Christ, "Wisdom is justified of her children", meaning, doubtless, that the teachings and lives of John and Himself were justified, no matter what evil speaking people thought. They were bound to find fault anyway.

Even in the city of Capernaum, in which He preached and worked miracles, people would not leave off their evil ways, and He was discouraged with them and with the cities of Chorazin and Betssaida, where He also worked. It were far better for the heathen cities that never heard Him than for those who heard and heeded not, He said.

Then Jesus thanked His Heavenly Father that although the wise and prudent had heard Him and would not attend, the simple people, even those He likened unto babes, believed. And He called upon these who needed consolation, to come to Him and be comforted.

"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden," He said, "and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest for your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light." How many sorrowing and care-laden souls have heard that invitation and have "put their burdens on the Lord" and been comforted.

Following Jesus

Repentance and the leading of good, Christian lives taking as pattern Jesus' own life, is what is required of us. "As I live, saith the Lord, God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye, from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?"—Ezekiel 33:11.

In Isaiah 55 we find: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money: come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come buy wine and milk without money and without price." This wine and milk were not mortal foods but those that feed the soul of man.

"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found," warns Isaiah. "Call ye upon Him while He is near.

"Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon Him and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

State Puts Ban On Rabbit Import

Out-Of-State Rabbits Have Proven Of Inferior Quality Is Claim

SURPLUS BUNNIES TO BE TRANSFERRED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Pennsylvania game officials are not planning to import any more cottontail rabbits from the middle west after January 1 when shipments of 50,000 Missouri cottontail's will have been received.

Officials of the commission explained that in view of prospect that states in the middle west would clamp down to live rabbit shipments, the commission last winter launched an extensive rabbit trapping and transfer program, with something like 23,000 rabbits captured and distributed on unposted hunting grounds.

This winter the commission, through its own staff and specially designated agents, is aiming to capture approximately 50,000 home-grown rabbits from nurseries, institutional grounds, state game propagation areas, and other places where no hunting is allowed.

The removal of such surplus rabbits also relieves nurserymen, truck growers, gardeners and other property owners from damage, thereby avoiding the necessity for them to kill the animals as a protection to their property.

The commission reports that these rabbits are far superior to imported animals. Many sportsmen have said frankly they would rather have one native rabbit than ten. Some say more, imported bunnies which are neither acclimated to conditions nor acquainted with the foods available here.

"There is another decided advantage in this program," said the commission. "It not only assures better rabbits, but it will keep upwards of $50,000 of the sportsmen's money right here in Pennsylvania rather than send it to the middle west."

Plan First Aid For Livestock

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—A first-aid station for ailing live stock will be an innovation at the annual Pennsylvania farm show to be held in Harrisburg in January.

Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light, in conjunction with the department of health, has made arrangements to have veterinarians in attendance at the farm show, and an enclosure will be provided where animals may be segregated in case of illness.

The Pennsylvania farm show is the largest winter exhibit of farm products and machinery in the world. Breeders from all parts of the country bring their finest animals for exhibition and to compete for blue ribbons. The animal first-aid station is an added service to exhibitors in case any of the stock-yard blue-bloods receive injuries in transit or become ill.

Final Arguments In Lawrence Case

Blackmail Case At Harrisburg May Be Concluded Today

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8. — The blackmail case of Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence will go to the jury today in Dauphin county court with a verdict probable before the day is over.

The four-week-old trial of the former secretary of the commonwealth in the Earle administration was scheduled to close around noon, when the jury was to receive the case after being charged by Presiding Judge Howard W. Hughes.

Counsel for both sides concluded their addresses to the jury, composed of six men and six women, yesterday and all that remained, as the final day of the trial opened, before the jury began its deliberations was the judge's charge. It was expected to take two hours.

As the 23rd and final day of the trial opened, Lawrence sat through the final moments surrounded by his wife and friends, quietly awaiting the verdict.

PROHIBITION RETURNING

(International News Service)

KELSO, Wash.—"Prohibition is on its way back due to the reawakening of young people to the evils of the liquor traffic." So declared National President Ida R. Wise Smith before the Western Washington Women's Christian Temperance Union convention. The most disastrous effect of repeal, Mrs. Smith said, has been the "lowering of the standard of womanhood. The drunken mother is now a distinct problem." She added that "liquor, gambling and prostitution are the trinity of evils and always found together."

Dean Calderwood Guest Speaker At Banquet Event

Will Make Address At Saturnlian Banquet Of Senatus Romanus December 14

Final details for the staging of the Saturnalian banquet by Senatus Romanus of the senior high school are being completed. Lacking a cafeteria this year at the senior high school, the club has secured permission to use the cafeteria of the George Washington junior-senior high school. The date of the banquet, December 14, is a little ahead of the week of the Saturnalia in ancient Rome, which began December 17. The festivities were, so far as their social aspect was concerned, the pagan equivalent of our Christmas merrymaking and came at much the same time of the year.

The Saturnalian banquet will be unique as a school affair in many ways. The guests and servers will be for the most part in costume, which will be a fair approximation of ancient costumes. Sheets are being withdrawn from the linen closets of various homes in the city to make their debut in the Saturnalian triclinium (dining room) as improvised togas and stoles. Modern meat, vegetables, fruit, bread and cakes will not recognize their names on the scrolls which are being prepared for the guests to keep as souvenirs. The scrolls will also contain the program in Latin; Latin Christmas carols, the evening's program of music on instruments comparable to those of the ancient Romans, a solo dance, an acrobatic feature and perhaps some boxing and wresting. Dean Calderwood, an outstanding classicist of western Pennsylvania, has consented to make the address of the evening. And finally, for the first time so far as is known, a number of former members of the club, now high school alumni, will be present at a high school social function to renew some of the associations of school days in a particularly pleasant way.

The art committee of the club is working hard on some ten great golden eagles to fly through the air above the diners as symbols of Rome's ancient glory. They are also making large cardboard cutouts to take the place of the statuary which was such an important feature in classic decorations. The art committee, the committee on ceremonies, the menu committee together with the costume committee, have been laboring hard to capture for the guests a suggestion of the atmosphere of social life of a great empire whose influence survives amazingly in the world today. The entertainment committee and their assisting musicians are arranging so that there will be something of interest going on continuously. Senatus Romanus proposes to give its guests and itself what is known as a "large evening".

Prize Steer Brings Young Man $2,397 At Chicago Show

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—An 18-year-old Texan's 16-month-old grand champion steer brought $1.35 for each of 1,220 pounds on the auction block at the International Livestock show Thursday.

The boy who pocketed the $1,647 was Mayfield Kothmann of Mason county, Texas.

Although his Lucky Boy II, the king of the livestock world, brought but a dime per pound more than the depression low, Mayfield seemed satisfied.

Lucky Boy II was purchased by a stockyards commission firm to provide premium steaks and roasts for Chicago's holiday trade.

Previously the young Texan had pocketed $750 in cash prizes won by his Hereford steer, bringing his total cash winnings to $2,397 on an initial investment of $35 plus an estimated $250 for feed plus hard work.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The most vicious and brutal animals eat no meat.

The bull, gorilla and rhinoceros eat cereals and grasses.

Animals are classified as either carniverous or herbiverous.

Carniverous are meat eaters, herbiverous eat no meat.

Man does not draw the line, he eats both cereals and meat.

Annual consumption of meat is about 133 pounds per person.

Meat is important and desirable in the diet of adults.

It contains iron and many of the vitamins.

Meat stimulates the digestive processes.

We used to think meat caused high blood pressure and rheumatism.

We know now meat is easily and rapidly digested.

Meat does not necessarily make one savage.

Moore Says More Cars And Buses Will Be Provided

Thomas C. Moore, superintendent, New Castle Street Electric Railway company appeared before council Thursday in city hall and informed the council that, beginning next week three, instead of two buses and extra street cars would be placed in service to meet the anticipated holiday transportation requirements.

Moore, in repley to Councilman J. D. Alexander, explained the present set-up of bus transportation and said that the new set-up is better than the old set-up. He admitted that persons some times enroute from Wilmington avenue to the West Side have a 20 minute layover on Public Square because the Wilmington avenue journeys first to Croton avenue then to the West Side.

Council was satisfied with his explanation when he stated that under the present set-up the majority of riders are benefitted.

Report Attack On Arctic Port

Finnish Motor Torpedo Boats Make Attack On Murmansk, Is Report

(International News Service)

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 8.—Finnish motor torpedo boats have attacked the Soviet Arctic port of Murmansk, where the German liner Bremen is believed to be taking refuge, according to rumors in Helsingfors, the Copenhagen newspaper National Tidende reported today.

The paper added that "Soviet troops from Asia and especially from Mongolia" are coming to Finland's Arctic front since they are better equipped than European Russian troops to withstand frigid Arctic temperatures.

News of the rumored Finnish attacks against Murmansk was published after the Danish legation in Moscow dispatched a message stating Russia had declared a blockade against the entire Finnish coast, effective at noon today.

Aaland Island only will be excepted, provided it is not used for war purposes, the message said.

It was believed that Soviet warships were already at work preparing to enforce the blockade by laying mines and intercepting any ships seeking to reach Finnish ports.

Complete Survey Of Home Service For Chapter Here

Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter Has Case Load Of 288 At Present Time

The survey of the active case load of the Home Service Department of the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross has just been completed by Miss Thyra Jane Fulton, Home Service secretary of the National Red Cross who is volunteering her time to the Chapter to make this survey. The active case load of the Chapter is 228 cases. This number comprises the active cases worked on by the executive secretary and does not include the closed cases completed during her period.

Of this active case load, the Chapter has been instrumental in bringing into Lawrence county an amount of $836.50 monthly in compensations and pensions making a total of $10,038.00 yearly. Miss Fulton points out that this amount does not decrease but in all probability increases due to the change of pensions and additional compensation in accrued benefits which comprises adjusted compensation, insurance, moneys to veterans, burial claims—a total of $8,650.77 has been brought into Lawrence county making a total for the past eighteen months of $18,688.77.

Miss Fulton is now analyzing the cases in the file which have not been worked on by the present executive secretary and in all probability a number of Lawrence county veterans will be contacted in the next few months regarding the possibility of increased compensation, or filing claims for consideration of compensation. This is only one of the services of the local Chapter and Ralph F. Davis, chairman of the Chapter feels that this particular service is of outstanding interest to all the community.

Open House Friday At Aiken Building

W. P. A. Recreational-Educational School To Be Open To Public

New Castle residents are due for a surprise tonight when "open house" is conducted between 7 and 9 o'clock at the WPA Recreational Educational school in the W. N. Aiken school building, Pearson St.

For the first time, citizens will learn the scope of the activities carried on behind the walls of the grade school which was closed to normal school work this term in the economy drive of the board of education.

Under local sponsorship, the WPA recreational and educational program has been carried forward under the supervision of Frank Leonard and Mrs. Agnes Howley. Numerous projects have been prompted and during the inspection the public will see some of the activity on parade. Some recreational work will be in progress as the public watches.

"Few know what we do up there" Leonard said. "It's our hope the public visits us."

Local Council Is Registered To Collect Funds

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3—The Central Council of Polish Organizations, 103 West Miller street, New Castle, has registered with the State Department for permission to collect relief funds for war sufferers in Poland, France and Great Britain.

Such registration is required by the Neutrality Act. Registered organizations are required to report each month to the State Department on the collection and disposition of money.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Play Scheduled Tonight In Ward

"Sunbonnet Jane Of Sycamore Lane" To Be Presented At Christian Church

A completely new set of stage props has been constructed for tonight's presentation of, "Sunbonnet Jane of Sycamore Lane", in the auditorium of the Madison Avenue Christian church.

Members of the cast for the play are from the dramatic group of the Christian Endeavor society of the church. The play is a three-act comedy with hillarious situations from start to finish.

Those in the play include: Delphine Jones, Steve Hutnick, Jr.; Irene Liversage, Thelma Bumbaugh, Grace Kelley, Myrtice Jones, Ann Evans, Walter Evans, Fred Thompson, Rev. and Mrs. Milton E. Shearer.

MORE HUNTERS ARE BACK FROM TRIPS

Another delegation of hunters from the Seventh Ward have returned from the "big game" country.

Tilford Earls of North Cedar street, has returned from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Murphy, former ward residents now living in Wheatland. Mr. Murphy and Mr. Earls went on a hunting trip to McKean county and were both successful in bagging deers. Mr. Murphy shot a 15 point, 200 animal while Mr. Earls brought down an 8 point 145 pound deer.

Maggie McKee, Judd Lamison and Lee Ollson, spent a few days hunting at Torpedo, returning with a 9 point buck. Miss Vera Abbott of the Mt. Jackson road also returned from a hunting trip.

BOOK WORMS MEET AT WARD SCHOOL

Members of the Book Worms club of the Mahoning Junior High school held a meeting in the school library on Wednesday. Plans for a Christmas party were made and names were exchanged for gifts.

The group will gather on December 13 to make Christmas favors to be given away.

The library assistants for this week were Esther Cangey and Irene Carlin. The club newspaper was distributed among the members. Next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, December 13.

GIRLS OF TROOP 25 HAVE MEETING

Girl Scouts of Troop 25 held a meeting Wednesday evening in the basement of the Mahoning Methodist church.

Gloris Stritzinger passed tests in music and dancing and nature study. Mary Catherine Ford passed music and dancing and community life.

In connection with her community life test, Mary Ford told the girls of her visit to Canada.

Plans were made for a Christmas party at the close of the program.

Scribe, Norma Fulton.

MARJORIE WALKER ENTERTAINS CLASS

Members of the W. W. U. class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, held a meeting Thursday night, at the home of Marjorie Walker, North Liberty street.

Ruth Glenn, president, was in charge of the session and led in a discussion period. A program of games was provided for entertainment.

A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, aided by Miss Evelyn Purdy. Next meeting will be held on Thursday, January 4.

Big Christmas Tree Erected At Sub-Station

A big and attractive Christmas tree has been erected on the property of the new electrical sub-station on North Cedar street.

The tree has been decorated with vari-colored lights and a large white star graces the uppermost branches, adding to the striking appearance. The tree will be a blaze of light from now until Christmas.

McCOY CLASS HAS DUCK DINNER AND CHRISTMAS PARTY

Husbands of the members of the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, were special guests at a duck dinner, served in the church dining room, Thursday evening. The menu was served by members of the Beatrice Davy Missionary Circle, of the church.

Rev. D. J. Bissdell asked the blessing. There were places laid for 32 persons.

At the close of the dinner, the ladies of the class went to the home of Mrs. George Kutz, West Madison avenue, for their annual Christmas party. An exchange of gifts was held at this time, along with an informal social program.

Next meeting for the class is scheduled for Thursday, January 4.

WILLING WORKERS PLAN FOR DINNER

Willing Workers of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, held a business session in the church parlors, to make plans for the annual church dinner.

This event will be a congregational affair and will be held on Thursday, January 25, in the church dining room. Committee named for this event includes: Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. B. H. Galbreath, Mrs. H. E. Alexander, Mrs. Grant E. Shaffer, Mrs. Frank Wilkinson and Mrs. Paul Bender.

IS IMPROVING

Nettie Spare, North Liberty street, who was injured earlier this week when she was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Mahoning avenue and North Liberty street, is reported to be showing slight improvement. She is confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

TAKE UP RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, who were married recently have taken up residence in their newly furnished home at the corner of Lafayette street and Madison avenue.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Lewis Haught, Lincoln avenue, is enroute to Florida for a vacation.

Eileen Mullen, North Liberty street, is spending a few days with friends in New Brighton and Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Dennis Sheedy, Buffalo, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tilford Earls, North Cedar street.

Mrs. Ralph Barker, a former ward resident, now living in Youngstown, visited relatives and friends here Thursday.

Attends Meeting On Veterans Work

All Departments Of Veterans Facility Now Located At Aspinwall Hospital

Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, is in Aspinwall today and tomorrow, attending a conference on veterans' claims.

Borderline cases are being discussed at this meeting, and cases which are deserving of assistance but which are not covered by regulations pertaining to veterans' claims. The conference will be presided over by Dr. Robert C. Cook.

All departments of the Veterans Administration Facility in the western Pennsylvania area are now centered at Aspinwall ,it is stated. Veterans will be able to contact the hospital from Pittsburgh through the Veterans of Foreign Wars Service Bureau in the Plaza building. Changes which resulted in the final removal of all departments were started in 1933 and were finally completed just last week.

G.O.P. Delegates To Total 1,000

Smallest Number In Recent Years To Attend Next Year's Convention

WILL REQUIRE 501 FOR NOMINATION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—There will be 1,000 delegates to the 1940 Republican National Convention making it the smallest G. O. P. conclave in recent years, according to a state apportionment of delegates released by the Republican National Committee headquarters today.

Shrinkages in size of the nominating convention was explained in a statement which said "delegates are based on a bonus system which rewards those states returning presidential majorities and those congressional districts where Republican candidates poll more than 10,000 votes at the preceding election."

In the 1936 convention there were 1,003 delegates; in 1932, 1,154; in 1928, 1,089; and in 1924, 1,109.

At the forthcoming convention with 1,000 delegates it will require 501 votes to nominate a presidential candidate and adopt a platform.

Under Republican rules besides four delegates at large from each congressional district, states which cast electoral votes for a G. O. P. presidential nominee receive a bonus of three additional delegates. Only Maine and Vermont get this bonus for 1940.

Twelve states have changes over 1936 in the number of delegates allotted, as follows: Arkansas, 12, a gain of one; Connecticut, 16, a loss of three; Delaware, six, a loss of three; Illinois, 58, a gain of one; Massachusetts, 34, a gain of one; New Hampshire, eight, a loss of three; New York, 92, a gain of two; Oklahoma, 22, a gain of one; Pennsylvania, 72, loss of three; Tennessee, 18, a gain of one; Texas, 26, a gain of one, and Virginia, 18, a gain of one.

The apportionment must be approved by the full committee, but this was regarded as a mere formality.

County Treasurer V. I. Mandich announces that the 1940 dog licenses have been received, and that he will start issuing them next week.

During the past few days a number of hunters have been securing licenses in anticipation of the two-day doe season in Forest, Warren and a part of Potter county. County Treasurer Mandich says that persons who have killed a buck this season cannot kill does. The doe season is December 14 and 15.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey has set December 29 as a time for hearing the divorce cases which have been contested. There are two of such cases, those of George F. Lehberger against Jean Lehberger and Hugh D. Horton against Wilma E. Hortor. The cases were on the list for hearing at the recent divorce court, but as considerable testimony is to be heard, it was thought best not to hold up the other cases.

In the case of Fred M. and Alberta Green, in which an appeal was taken from an award of viewers, the court has ordered an issue framed in which Fred M. and Alberta Green shall be the plaintiffs and the County of Lawrence the defendant. The case is one growing out of the improvement of the Pulaski-Harbor road, the Green property being located in the hollow, where a sharp turn was made in the road. Some of Green's land was taken in straightening the curve, and a new bridge was built across a run. Greens were not satisfied with the award of viewers.

William D. Walton, treasurer of the Republican County Committee, has filed his report of the recent campaign at the county commissioners' office. It shows total contributions of $5,054.54 and total disbursements of $4,682.64. Expense account of J. Myron Rice, candidate for city council, shows that he expended $172.45; Dominick Cioffi, candidate for mayor, received contributions of $115 and expended $218.73; Harold A. Good, candidate for city treasurer, spent $400.04.

An informal conference was held by the county commissioners with the two county commissioners-elect, William R. Walton and Joseph F. Travers, yesterday; County Controller Frank W. Hill and County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., being present. Matters in connection with the county business and finance were discussed.

The following final accounts have been approved by the court:

Account of Michael Rich, administrator of Michael S. Rich. Total assets, $1,600; credits, $849.33. Balance due estate, $750.67.

Final account of Charles F. Stevenson, ancilliary administrator of James A. Stevenson estate. Total assets, $30,130.22; credits, $29,605.33. Balance due estate, $524.39.

Politics Warms Up At Capital

Landon Again Demands That Roosevelt Make Third Term Statement

ICKES VETO ON M'NUTT AROUSES

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The political cauldron boiled over in Washington today after Alf M. Landon, 1936 GOP nominee, again demanded President Roosevelt declare himself at once on the third term issue and the new deal staged a family quarrel in public over the Democratic nominee for 1940 in event he does retire.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who favors the president for a third term, touched off the fireworks by putting a "palace guard" veto on the Democratic presidential aspiration of security administrator Paul V. McNutt. Ickes declared that he and all "liberal and progressive" elements would fight McNutt's nomination. He added the president would never support McNutt but that if he did, the liberals would still fight the Indianan.

For good measure, Ickes compared New York's GOP possibility, Thomas E. Dewey, to his own "crying baby." He really touched off a series of political explosions.

Democrats and Republicans immediately launched attacks on Ickes. The Democrats challenged his rights to condemn McNutt while the Republicans assailed his attack on Dewey.

Seven Killed And Twenty-Five Injured Butler Road Toll

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 8.—Seven dead and 25 injured was the toll taken in November from traffic accidents in Butler county.

A total of 35 accidents were investigated in the county by the State Motor Patrol as the toll continued to mount for the year.

The death rate was seven times that of November 1938. In November 1938 there was only one person killed and 16 injured in 20 accidents in this area.

Last month the seven persons killed were the result of three accidents; there were 14 accidents in which personal injuries resulted and 18 in which there was only property damage.

For the first eleven months of this year there have been 448 accidents, as compared with 256 accidents during the entire year in 1938.

The Butler-Slippery Rock road, heavily traveled during the time detours on Routes 422 and 19 were in effect, was the scene of 138 accidents. Majority of these crashes were on Bonaire curve, and in Center and Brady townships, State Motor Police reported.

PLASTERED FISH

(International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—Frederick A. Terwilegar went fishing off Bournsdale but forgot his bait.

The court plaster from his first aid kit, lured a 40-pound bass to the hook.

When the bass shook the hook, Terwilegar jumped into the water and pulled the fish ashore with his hands.

"It would have been much easier if I hadn't forgotten the bait," he said.

The Extras are in the CAR— and not in the Price!

*The model illustrated is the Buick SUPER model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.

YOU look this smooth-stepping Buick honey over, and its very manner tells you here's a one-in-a-million kind of automobile.

You look at the advertised prices, add something more for transportation and accessories—and there you begin to go wrong!

For one of the things that give this Buick its buy-value is the number of items included in the price that cost extra elsewhere!

For instance — the Flash-Way Direction Signal, standard on all models, costs around $10 extra elsewhere — even without the automatic cut-off.

Every Buick comes to you with automatic choke and an efficient oil cleaner—it's surprising how often they're sold as "extras."

Every Buick has dual horns, dual sun visors, locks on both front doors, electric lighter, assist straps,† robe cord,† glove compartment lock, front-door armrests, gas tank lock—all things often charged for elsewhere.

Every Buick has a Dynaflash valve-in-head straight-eight engine, micropoise-balanced after assembly. Every one has two stabilizers, and rear coil springs that never need lubrication.

All have torque-tube drive, battery under hood, two ways of starting. Super and Roadmaster have front seats close to five feet wide and all models have Safety Plate Glass all around.

And all this is included in the at-the-factory price. Why not see the nearest Buick dealer and see how little more it costs delivered to your door?

†Sedan models only

Origin Of Yuletide Tree And Ornaments Is Quite Interesting

Have you ever looked at your Christmas tree, gleaming with bright colored ornaments, and wondered where the idea of Christmas trees originated? That happened to a group of Girl Scouts one day and being good Scouts, they set to work to find out the facts. The girls haunted libraries and blew the dust off long unopened books, and their findings were both surprising and interesting.

Their first surprise came when they learned that the custom of the Christmas tree did not become popular until half a century ago; the second, when their trail led back to early Scandinavians long before the establishment of the Roman Empire.

Before the time of Christ, when sun worship was the major religion, the evergreen was believed to represent the sun, its branches the sun's rays. Early Scandinavians conceived the universe to be a gigantic evergreen in whose branches dwelt the gods and at whose base lived the Three Fates, today translated into the Three Wise Men.

France, the girls found, had a thirteenth century romance to contribute. In it the hero finds a huge tree in the forest, laden with candles, some upright, some upside-down, and above the tree a child with a halo round its head. According to legend, when the Pope heard the story he interpreted the tree as mankind, the child as the Christchild, and the candles as good and bad people.

Probably the most popular tale of the Christmas tree's origin is that which attributes the custom to Martin Luther. One Christmas eve as he walked homewards the winter sky was studded with brilliant stars. Later, filled with the wonder of it, he tried to describe the sight to his family. But no words he could find suited him, and finally he rushed outside to return with a small fir tree which he decked with lighted candles.

But the story which credits St. Winfred with the tree's origin seems most in keeping with the spirit of Christmas. While addressing a group of converts, the story goes, he seized an axe and slashed down a huge oak, that had formerly been part of their Druidic worship. As the tree fell to the ground a tiny young fir tree stood revealed unharmed, pointing its green branches toward the stars.

The tree is not known to have become a feature of Christmas until the sixteenth century when a Strassbourg manuscript (1608) describes it as part of the Yule celebration. For two hundred years only the Rhine country decorated Christmas trees. In 1830 the idea was taken up by Munich, Bohemia, and Hungary. By 1869 trees were on sale throughout Paris. The custom was not prevalent in England until the marriage of Queen Victoria to a German prince. German emigrants brought the usage to America.

Christmas tree ornaments trace their origin from replicas of gods hung on pine trees during the Roman Saturnalia. Perhaps this explains why some ornaments have faces on one side. But today the shiny colored balls symbolize the planets of the universe in subjection to the Christchild. Lametta, or tinsel, which many people think represent icicles, was intended to be the Christchild's hair. Often a white stag and several reindeer are hung on the branches. This in ancient times was intended to be the sun stag eating up the length of time, with four smaller stags consuming the four seasons. Now, of course, they are Santa's reindeer. Under the tree, lambs and cattle guard the manger, symbolizing strength and innocence instead of animal sacrifice to the gods.

EVANGELIST QUITS ENGINEER'S CAB, KEEPS PREACHING

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 8.—The "railroad evangelist" today had given up the rails—but not his work of salvation.

D. J. Fant, 71-year-old engineer, completed 52 years of service on the railroad when he returned the Crescent City Limited to Atlanta after a run to Greenville, S. C.

Since about 1910, Fant has been a lay minister, and has preached in railroad shops, warehouses, at cross roads and in churches from Nova Scotia to California. By this activity, he was awarded the title of "railroad evangelist".

For years his engine was known by the decoration on its boiler—an open Bible with the headlight behind it.

A service in his honor was held at the Greenville Gospel Tabernacle and was attended by his son, David A. Fant Jr., a minister of New York City.

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—The Chicago White Sox today sold Third Baseman Marvin Owen to the Boston Red Sox.

The Bible refers to James, Joses, Simon and Judas as the brethren of Jesus. There are many explanations of "the brethren of Jesus." Some say they were the stepchildren of Mary, in other words, the children of Joseph by a previous marriage; others say they were cousins; others that they were foster children.

Dear Sirs:

At a recent meeting of the Lawrence County Pomona Grange I was requested to express to you our sincere appreciation for the splendid co-operation which we have received from you during this past year.

The success of the granges of the county can be attributed in a large measure, to the publicity which you have so kindly given to both the subordinate and pomona granges.

Respectfully,

Dentists Honor Dr. W. C. Mechem

Banquet At Field Club Last Evening Given By Associates Of Veteran Dentist

IS PRESENTED WITH FINE WATCH

Although Dr. W. C. Mechem, veteran New Castle dentist has gone into retirement from his profession, he has not gone into obscurity, as was attested last evening, when all of the city's dentists gathered at the New Castle Field club for a testimonial dinner, arranged by his associates during his long term of practice here.

Dr. W. P. Felch served as toastmaster and presided in truly professional manner. Dr. W. L. Beal was called upon to relate the history of Dr. Mechem and gave many interesting sidelights on the honored guest's career here. Dr. T. J McFate also spoke feelingly of how Dr. Mechem's career had proven an inspiration to younger members of the profession.

Dr. E. Lee Boyles was then called upon, and in fitting style presented Dr. Mechem with a fine watch, suitably engraved for the occasion. During the course of the evening, those assembled also sent a handsome handbag to the Mechem home as a gift for Mrs. Mechem.

Born in the neighboring state of Ohio, Dr. Mechem moved to Kansas, with his parents, when still a boy, and from there, went to Philadelphia where he attended the Philadelphia Dental college, now known as Temple university. He graduated with the degree of Dental Surgeon in 1895, and came to New Castle immediately after his graduation, where he opened an office on Neshannock avenue. Three years later, he moved his office to the Bleakley building on the Diamond, where he practiced for 41 years, retiring only this fall.

Bucky Walters Signs Contract

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—The Cincinnati baseball club today announced that Pitchers Bucky Walters and Johnny Vandermeer had signed contracts for 1940. Walters, it was learned, will receive almost $20.000.

During the 1939 season, Walters won 27 games for the Reds and was a large factor in the team's winning the National League pennant and landing in the World Series. Vandermeer entered the Hall of Fame in 1938 when he twirled two no run, no hit contests. An ailing arm diminished his effectiveness this past season.

Two Champions On Fund Card At Cleveland

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—Two world championship fights will be on the Cleveland News Christmas fund boxing card next Monday night as a result of Jimmy Garrison's inability to go over the 147-pound welterweight limit and still be "right", it was announced today.

Garrison was scheduled to battle Henry Armstrong, world welter champ, in an overweight, non-title match, but Armstrong's manager, Eddie Mead, agreed to make it a title match when it was learned that Garrison couldn't increase his weight. The match will be for 10 rounds, the same distance the two went together a year ago, when Armstrong took the decision by virtue of a rally in the closing rounds.

The other title match will see Eric Seelig matched against Champion Al Hostak for the middleweight title. This match is for 15 rounds.

Pope Pius XII Prays For Peace

Invokes Intercession Of God "To Restore Peace And Concord In World"

TEN THOUSAND GET BENEDICTION

(International News Service)

ROME, Dec. 8—Pale and in tears, Pope Pius XII visited the Basilica of Santa Maria Maggiore today and for 15 minutes prayed fervently on behalf of peace.

The pontiff invoked the intercession of God to "restore peace and concord in this world so afflicted and divided."

Replying to an address of welcome by Cardinal Verde, the Pope invoked the special protection of the Virgin Mary "for all in danger."

His visit to the Basilica coincided with the feast of the Immaculate conception and marked the 40th anniversary of the pope's celebration of his first mass at the Basilica.

Former King Alfonso and Queen Victoria Ena of Spain as well as the Prince of the Asturias were present reviving rumors of a reconciliation between Alfonso and his estranged wife and their restoration to the Spanish throne.

Ten thousand persons packed the Basilica Square and received the Pope's benediction urbe et orbi (to the city and to the world) It was the first such benedication from the Basilica in 70 years. The benediction also was broadcast throughout the world.

News Briefs From City Hall

Council did not go into budget making this morning as proposed Thursday because of inability of a full attendance of councilmen.

J. Myron Rice, public safety director, said today he would ask $1,900 be appropriated for payment on the fire truck bought several years ago for $5,100, now on duty in the fourth ward. This will pay in full for the 1,000 gallon pumper.

Chevrolet truck, owned by Willard McDonald and William Hoon, was reportedly stolen yesterday from in front of 613 Raymond street, according to police. The license number of the truck was not given police.

Automobiles assertedly driven by Dave Tobin, 517 South Mill street, and Paul DeCarbo, East Lutton street were reported to have been in a collision Thursday afternoon at South Mill and Reynolds streets.

Receipts from one annual dance license and other daily licenses here during November amounted to $123, according to police records.

There were 67 violations of auto regulations here in November, three of which were for speeding, the November police report shows. Forty-six persons were arrested for drunkenness. Eighty-two of the 171 arrested paid fines and costs of $266.

Former Phillips Home Is Being Razed To Ground

Work Under Way On One Of Notable Early Residences In New Castle

Wrecking crews today began razing one of New Castle's early-day mansions—the former Phillips home atop the knoll directly behind New Castle hospital.

Pride of the district for many years, the roomy dwelling long served as the home of one of the city's pioneer business leaders, Thomas W. Phillips. It became a hospital when abandoned as a home and in recent years served as the New Castle hospital nurses' home.

Workmen of the John R. Frazier organization are removing the plumbing in the home, preparatory to the demolishing.

The modern brick nurses' quarters on South Mercer street, adjoining the hospital, will replace the hilltop home.

ENJOY PROGRAMS AT WASHINGTON

School's Auditorium Assemblies Feature Choir, Red Cross Speaker

Students of George Washington junior-senior high school enjoyed two delightful programs in their auditorium this week.

On Tuesday the senior high school a cappella choir, under the direction of Robert Duff, gave the following program:

O Bone Jesa—Palestrina.
Cherubin Song—Glinka.
Sleep Holy Child, old French carol—girls' ensemble.
Lullaby on Chrismas Eve—Christianser. Mary DeLorenzo, soloist.
Three Kings — Old Catalonian. Agnes Palkovitch, soloist.
Winter Song, boys—Bullard.
Celestial Voices—Alcock.
Beautiful Savior — Christiansen. Julia Johns, soloist.
Benediction—Lutkin.

Yesterday Robert Zubrad, a national Red Cross representative from Washington, D. C., gave an interesting and educational talk on safety and action prevention. He was introduced by Miss Margaret Bodenstein, secretary of Lawrence county Red Cross.

Later a movie was shown, entitled "Why Not Live?" This was given by the courtesy of national Red Cross of Washington, D. C.

German Planes Seen Over France

Despite Weather Conditions Planes Make Flights Over Eastern France

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 8—Despite low temperatures and squally weather, numerous German reconnaissance planes flew over Eastern France today, some of them reaching the Paris area.

French pursuit planes remained on the ground and no incidents were reported.

The usual patrol activities continued at the front today. Officials said that in yesterday's raid on the front, three German company sections attempted to cut off a French outpost which, although outnumbered, won a bitter fight with the attackers.

Find Many Uses For Holiday Seals

Many Making Requests At Tuberculosis Society Office For More Seals

Many and varied are the uses being found this year for the anti-tuberculosis Christmas Seals. So widespread is the use this year that many calls to the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society have been received from persons requesting additional seals.

Contributions, both large and small, are still coming in at the T. B. office in payment for this year's crop of seals. Many people begin as soon as they purchase the seals to use them by putting them on the back of the return envelope, carrying their remittance to the office.

Suggested uses for the seals follow, and they will enable the many people who are wondering just what to do with them, to dispose of them in a useful manner.

Decorate your mail, both business and personal, with the seals; use them to seal Christmas gifts, and in connection with your Christmas greeting cards. They may be used attractively on stationery heads, and for making clever designs on Christmas packages and gifts.

Stamp collectors are welcoming this year's seals for the reason that the special block they make a habit of saving is this year in the center of each sheet of seals, making it possible to secure it intact. In previous years the four special stamps were found, one on each corner of the sheet.

Three Distilleries Are Penalized For Violating Of Law

(International News Service)

HARRISURG, Dec. 8—Three large distillers were barred today from operating in Pennsylvania for a period of 15 days for violation of the State's liquor laws through "improper trade practices."

Those affected by the Liquor Control Board's order were the Calvert Distillers Corporation, Oldetyme Distillers Corporation and Browne Vintners Company.

The ban against the companies includes not only the products made by them, but also the imported and other items for which these concerns are sales agents.

The board's order was telegraphed to all 580 State liquor stores following a special meeting in Harrisburg last night.

In addition to the suspension of the three distillers, the board penalized nearly 30 salesmen. Charles M. Masloom, Allentown, and Samuel Hertzberg, formerly of Pittsburgh, had their registrations revoked and $500 bonds forfeited.

Eleven calvert salesmen were reprimanded and six suspended from 10 to 40 days; three Browne Vintner salesmen were reprimanded and four suspended from 25 to 80 days; one Oldetyme salesman was suspended for 30 days.

BAGS DEER

Among the lucky nimrods bagging deers this season, is E. M. McCormick, of Highland Heights, who returned from a one-week hunting trip to McKean county with a seven point buck, weighing 145 pounds. Also included in the party were Ralph McCormick and son, Harold McCormick, but were unsuccessful at bagging a deer.

Roosevelt Places Relief Blame On Governor Of Ohio

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Roosevelt today placed direct responsibility for Ohio's relief crisis on Gov. John W. Bricker and the Ohio state legislature.

The president said in plain words that for seven years the federal government has held to the policy that federal responsibility in relief embodies only the needy persons who are able to work and want to work. It is a policy of years standing he said that home relief people who cannot work are a responsibility of the state and that state legislatures must take care of this problem.

Sharply emphasizing his words with figures the president cited a relief expenditure of $7,000,000 since the beginning of the 1939 year by Ohio as compared with a $33,000,000 expenditure by Pennsylvania for the same purpose. He added that this went to show that the state of Ohio was not taking care of its home relief cases as well as Pennsylvania.

NEED FOR ADDED STRESS ON FAMILY DEMOCRACY SEEN

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8—A new model of family life, with more emphasis on family democracy, is needed to save the country from dictatorship, according to Mrs. Evelyn Mills, executive director of the Association for Family Living.

Pointing out that one out of five American marriages end in divorce the first five years, and adding that in Hollywood the ratio is one out of two and in Peoria one out of three, Mrs. Duvall said:

"The family must develop a new major function; that of providing opportunities for the individual to learn how to adjust himself to other people in a democratic society.

"For if democracy is to survive it will survive because men and women learn its processes in the intimate family group."

She also recommended a "shift of emphasis from control to understanding" to preserve the family group and make it more efficient.

APPLE ORCHARDS OF NEW ENGLAND RESTORED IN YEAR

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Hard work, patience plus science restored to New England in one short year the devastation caused to apple orchards in the hurricane a year ago.

Although hundreds of thousands of baering trees were toppled over—plus the loss of millions of bushels of ripe fruit ready to be harvested—the harvest estimate this fall is only slightly less than the outlook for last year before the hurricane. In 1938 the crop estimation was 6,186,000 bushels, while the outlook for 1939 is 5,630,000.

Horses, tractors and automobiles were pressed into service by orchard growers after the big blow, hauling fallen trees back into position. Specially constructed props and guy wires anchored many trees in their original position. Care had to be exercised so that the trees were not damaged further.

Administration Talk Of Economies Nonsense Is Babson's Reaction

(By ROGER W. BABSON)
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—Quarters which are usually "in the know," here in Washington are convinced that the 1940 session of congress will be brief, routine, and uneventful. There will be no new reform legislation. In fact, if any new laws are ground out of the legislative mill, they will be in the direction of amending reform bills already on the books — notably the Wagner Labor Act. The spotlight will be focused on defense appropriations and the budget, but John Q. Citizen need not worry about paying any new taxes next year.

BABSON

There has been a lot of talk in Administration circles recently about economies that will result in a slash in the nation's deficit for 1940. This is sheer nonsense. There is no hope of reducing expenditures next year. The only question is how much the deficit will be increased—not decreased! History shows that Congresses do not cut expenses or enact new taxes—especially in election years—unless the President drives them to it. Mr. Roosevelt has never prodded Congress on this point in an off-year. Why expect him to do so in an election year?

Economy Talk The Bunk

Here and there we may see a little paring down of budget estimates purely for window-dressing purposes. No major amputations are possible, however, with the entire House and a third of the Senate courting re-election. In fact, any actual savings in the ordinary administrative expenses will be more than offset by the cost of putting nearly 50,000 new civil employes on the payrolls during 1939, plus a tremendous increase in defense appropriations. The American people want to put themselves in a position where neither Hitler nor Hirohito can shove them around.

This defense spending is a boon for the Administration. The country has been getting fed up on W. P. A. Shifting the emphasis from raking leaves and digging ditches to making airplanes and rigging battleships is good stuff politically. Mr. Roosevelt has stated that defence expenses will be upped $500,000,000 in the next fiscal year. You have read that he says it is up to the voters whether or not they want to pay for this in new taxes or borrow it. Washington sees nothing in this "pay-as-you-go" talk. It is a little ridiculous in view of the fact that over $20,000,000,000 have been borrowed in seven years.

New Spending Peak

If the current level of business continues next year, the picture may be brightened by a jump in receipts, but there will be little decrease in expenditures. The number of relief applicants today is the largest on record. Moreover, with 1940 being an election year, look for farm appropriations to top this year's record payments. Hence, fiscal experts estimate a total of about $9,000,000,000 will be dipped out of the till next year, while receipts will roll up close to $7,000,000,000. It will be a new high-water mark for federal spending—almost double the total of the depression years. This means the country will go into the red to the tune of $2,000,000,000 or more.

In addition to taxes and expenses, another issue on the docket at Capitol Hill will be the amendment of the Wagner Labor Act. This is strongly favored by popular opinion in many sections as well as by industrialists. The constant and unnecessary labor friction under the Wagner Act is getting on peoples' nerves. The public is waking up to the fact that they pay the bill for the support of these strikes. However, the labor bosses control a pretty solid block of votes. Therefore, some of the more politically-minded Congressmen will not want to do anything about the Wagner Act until the election is safely hurdled.

Mead Bill A "Dark Horse"

A "dark horse" measure which is in for a lot of discussion is the Mead Bill. This legislation is designed to set up credit machinery for small businesses which need new capital. Small concerns find it almost impossible to secure the capital they need for expansion purposes. Many potential new jobs are therefore, being still-born. Ever since the "Small Business" Convention two years back, there has been a good deal of sympathy in Washington for the objective of this Bill. Those who make it their business to know what's what in Congress say the Mead Bill will be either passed or put over until 1941—it will not be killed.

All in all, the session will be a rather humdrum affair. The war, of course, will call for some stirring speeches of the flag-waving variety for back-home consumption. The Neutrality Act will not be shuffled again. However, the only possibility of a real battle that I can foresee now is a surprise Presidential proposal for economy. The President would make this move purely as a buck-passing gesture. Congress would restore any cuts in expenses that he would ask for and, hence, Congress would take the rap for opposing "economy."

1939 Version Of "Economy"

But 1940 will see the eighth year of unbridled public spending by an Administration which was originally elected on an economy platform. Many will remember Candidate Roosevelt's stirring speech at Pittsburgh in 1932: "Many a nation has been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy; we must avoid that danger!" That candidate, as President, has spent $50,000,000,000 and has collected $30,000,000,000 in taxes. This has given his "economy" Administration a net deficit of $20,000,000,000 as its contribution in piloting us off the shoals of financial disaster.

Man Killed By Towboat Blast At Huntington

Two Are Missing And Six Injured As Blast Destroys Boat Tied At Dock

(International News Service)

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Dec. 8.—At least one person was killed, two were missing, and six others were suffering today from serious injuries and burns received when an explosion destroyed the towboat Rawn while the craft was docked at Huntington.

The dead man was Jess Plants, fireman, of Point Pleasant, W. Va. Injured were Capt. W. M. Wright, Huntington; Robert Smith, pilot, of Gallipolis, O., Mrs. Miriam Kirkpatrick, chambermaid, Chesapeake, W. Va.; a Mrs. Austin, cook, of Point Pleasant, and deckhands Thomas Ash, of Robert, W. Va., and J. E. Beaver, Grimms Landing, W. Va.

The missing were G. G. Gebhardt, Huntington, and Paul Starcher, of Rome, O.

The Rawn had been tied up for 12 hours while her boilers were being cleaned. A crew of 15 was engaged in getting up steam when the explosion occurred.

The 14-year-old tug was renamed Rawn after purchase by the Ohio River Dredging Co., and was used to haul coal from the Kanawha river to Ashland, Ky., and Ironton, O. Previously, she had plied the Tennessee river as the H. S. Chamberlain.

Our Great Plants Are "Delivering the Goods"

The Chrysler Corporation's great plants are alive with activity . . . the workers are busy in the team-play of trained minds and skilled hands . . . building the finest, most popular automobiles the Corporation ever built . . . the 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler.

WHEN WE SAY that Chrysler Corporation's great plants are "Delivering the Goods" we mean everything the phrase means . . .

DELIVERING THE GOODS . . . in the sense that experienced workers are building the finest and most popular automobiles in Chrysler Corporation's history.

DELIVERING THE GOODS . . . in the sense that millions of dollars a day in raw materials are coming in across the receiving platforms as trainload after trainload of new automobiles move out to dealers and the public.

DELIVERING THE GOODS . . . in the sense that 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars represent today's most beautiful styling, the most advanced engineering and the finest workmanship.

The people of America have come to expect exceptional engineering and high quality in Chrysler Corporation automobiles.

The 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars not only live up to that high expectation—they exceed it!

It is an inspiring thing to see the quick responsiveness people show for outstanding value—the kind of value that is self-evident in car size, beauty, luxury, riding comfort, advanced engineering and fine workmanship.

Equally inspiring—urging us on to ever greater progress—is the unswerving confidence and loyalty of the merchants who sell and service our products.

Such staunch and widespread confidence and support strongly indorse our policies and principles of good manufacturing and sound merchandising.

We believe—and always have believed—that quality goes beyond good machinery and good materials. It lies in engineering genius, care and precision of manufacture, complete and thorough inspection.

Furthermore, millions of Americans choose to believe that of all manufacturers, Chrysler Corporation is particularly and notably successful in achieving the combined goal of low price and highest quality.

The 1940 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler cars are by far the greatest values we have ever built—in smart styling, size, luxurious tailoring and appointments, riding quality and performance.

We know it—our dealers know it—the men who build the cars know it—and it is common knowledge and talk throughout the country.

May we suggest that you see your nearby Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer? He will gladly let the car you are interested in speak for itself, for him and for us.

Blow Is Struck In U. S. Probe Of Building Costs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8—Striking a blow for the government's probe of excessive building costs, the federal court at Pittsburgh today ordered dissolution of a contractors' bid-controlling organization and a union-owned contracting firm in the heating and ventilating industry.

The action was taken on a complaint filed by M. Neil Andrews, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of the building costs grand jury investigation here. The complaint charged restraint of interstate trade and conspiracies.

Two contractors' organizations, one American Federation of Labor union, 16 firms and 30 individuals, including 11 union officials, were named as defendants in the complaint. They consented to the decree, signing a stipulation barring a continuance of such practices.

Immediate dissolution of the voluntary code of the heating, piping and air conditioning industry for Allegheny county was ordered. Dissolution by March 1, 1940, was ordered for the United Heating Company, owned and operated by the A. F. L.-United Association of Steam, Hot Water, Refrigeration, Pneumatic Tube, Hydraulic Air, Oil, Gasoline, Gas and Process Pipe Fitters, Welders and Helpers Local Union No. 449.

The government charged that the defendants entered into combinations and conspiracies to control union labor for members of the voluntary code, it alleged that about 95 per cent of heating equipment sold and installed in Pittsburgh was done by members of the two contracting associations.

WASHINGTON RESERVES

Members of the Junior Girl Reserves of George Washington school held a meeting on December 6 after school.

Devotions were led by Elizabeth Burton, and Helen Sisley gave the treasurer's report, which was approved. Plans for a Girl Reserve Christmas party were made to be given at the Y. W. C. A. for small children, who otherwise would not have much Chritsmas.

The service committee, June Nelson, chairman; Dulcie Culliford, Marjorie Howe and Carolyn Rocks, together with other service committees from other Girl Reserve club, will pack Christmas boxes.

Christmas trees trimmed with candles and artificial snow were made by the Girl Reserves to be given to the Jameson Memorial hospital as favors for trays. Marjorie Pascoe, program chairman, conducted this part of the meeting.

President Eleanor Chapman adjourned the meeting.

JUNIOR BUSINESS GIRLS

Members of the Junior Business Girls of the Y. W. C. A. held an interest group Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock and a regular meeting at 8:30 o'clock.

President Elizabeth Yingling was in charge of the meeting and plans were made for a Christmas party to be held on December 14, in the home of Peg Pattison of Court St.

Battery Will Freeze When Charge Is Low

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—Make sure your battery is fully charged before taking out the family automobile these frosty winter days, the Keystone Automobile club warns.

"Very few motorists know that a battery showing only one-quarter charge will freeze at 13 degrees above zero," the club explained "At half-charge, it will freeze at zero, but it is good for 98 below when fully charged."

It's better, too, to change from a heavy to a lighter oil in winter, because even a strong battery has trouble turning over a motor bogged down in heavy oil, according to club officials.

Woman's Club To Have Christmas Musical Event

Will Be Held At City Building On Tuesday, December 12

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec 8—The Christmas meeting of the Woman's club on December 12 at the city building will be in the form of a musical, presented by the Music section of the club. In addition to two selections by the chorus which contain old Christmas favorites in new form, there will be a presentation of many quaint and beautiful carols from other countries and other centuries. The chorus, directed by Mrs. B. G. Osterhouse is made up of Mrs. Harold Burns, Mrs. Frank Conway, Mrs. E. T. Frost, Mrs. Howard Gillis, Mrs. John Hayden, Mrs. Edward Hedberg, Mrs. Frank Huffman, Mrs. William Ketterer, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. H. S. Steinberger, Mrs. Samuel Mullin, Mrs. W. D. Warnock, Mrs. W. L. Dean accompanist.

The chorus will be assisted by a mixed quartet made up of Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Steinberger, Mr. Paul Connor and Mr. Howard Jones, bass by Mr. Connor as tenor soloist and by Mrs. Hough in a violin obligato with the chorus. Mr. Connor's solo will be "Gesu Bambino" by Piero a Yon" and the chorus will sing "Westminster Carold" and "Christmas Morn." Christmas decorations arranged by a committee from the Garden Section headed by Mrs. Sharp Jackson will provide ideas for home and table Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Miesel Hostess To Electa Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—Members of the Electa club were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Oka Miesel of Line avenue Thursday evening. The diversion of the evening was Five Hundred which was played at two tables with Mrs. John Humphrey and Mrs. Robert Morris receiving the high score favors, while Mrs. Bert Wilson, a guest was presented with the guest award and also winning the traveling prize.

Concluding the evening's activities was a delicious luncheon served by the hostess assisted by her daughters the Misses Eileen and Leatrice Miesel. The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Robert Morris of First avenue.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8—On Saturday evening, Inter-Department League Basketball contests will be held in the Shelby Club House. The game will be followed by a dance in the Auditorium.

Missionary Society Meeting Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—At 7:45 Thursday evening the members of the United Presbyterian Missionary society met in the church parlors for their regular monthly meeting. The Pre-Prayer Group was led by Mrs. George Burrows, while the study period was conducted by Mrs. Lillian McKim. "The Interpretation of the Madras Conference" was the topic for discussion with Miss Ascha Jackson, Mrs. Robert Lowery and Mrs. Oscar Lersch taking part.

A vocal solo was then rendered by Mrs. Lloyd Randolph and the business session was then conducted by the president, Mrs. Russell Anderson. Following this a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Mesdames Thomas Patterson, Allen Crowe and Frank Potter. Twenty-six members and one visitor were in attendance.

Banquet Event Thursday Night

"Greater Fellowship" Banquet At First Presbyterian Church Is Inspiring

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—Representatives from 13 Sunday schools of western Pennsylvania assembled in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening to enjoy a "Greater Fellowship" banquet, sponsored by the Brotherhood Bible class of the church. One hundred fifty participated in the event, including members of the local Rotary club as guests.

During the meeting a proposal was made to form an association of men's Bible classes of the Presbyterian church in western Pennsylvania. The matter was discussed at length but no definite decision was made.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Graflin, noted lecturer, of White Plains, N. Y. His subject was "Fundamentals of Successful Living". This he divided into six points. First—Courage to Pioneer; second—The Will to Investigate; third—There Must Be a Capacity for New Truth; fourth—Tolerance of the Radical; fifth—There Must Be Sacrificial Persistence; sixth—There Must Be a Great Sense of Responsibility to God and Man. He illustrated these points with stories of real life, replete with humor and common sense philosophy.

The program with J. A. Meister as toastmaster was as follows:
Song—America.
Invocation—Rev. A. M. Stevenson.
Group singing—W. A. Mattocks, leader.
Greeting—Dr. Shields.
Response—Visiting teachers.
An Objective—J. A. Meister.
Violin solo—John Kuczmarski.
Address—Dr. Graflin.

Rescue Squad Has Weekly Meeting

Captain Sloan Makes Interesting Address At Session On Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—The rescue squad of the Ellwood City Volunteer Fire Department held its weekly meeting last night in the fire building. The service corp of the Boy Scouts was present as special guests to hear talks by Captain Fay, instructor of the Pittsburgh Fire school and Captain Sloan, instructor of the fire school held in Ellwood City last fall.

Captain Sloan gave a very interesting talk on Firemanship. He points out that all calls must be answered as emergency fire calls, regardless of the number of false alarms turned in. He explained the various ways in which fire alarms should be turned in and pointed out to the Service Corp. the many ways in which they can render valuable assistance at the time of a fire. Among the other duties of firemen, Captain Sloan pointed out that they must be familiar with the names and location of every street, know the position of each alarm box and hydrant and be familiar with the name and use of every piece of equipment.

Captain Fay gave a highly educational talk on common everyday hazards and use of various types of smoke masks and the inhalator He stressed the facet that the use of an all service mask was very essential since fires liberated various kinds of poisonous gases With the aid of a member of the Service Corps, he demonstrated the correct way to put on a mask, use it and take it off. With a new type of telephone mask which he had, he showed how instructions could be issued to members wearing these masks. After telling about the various purposes for which the pulmotor, inhalator and resuscitator could be used, he explained in detail, how to use the inhabitor for victims of pneumonia electric shock, drowning or asphyxiation.

The Rescue Squad will hold its next meeting on Thursday evening, December 14, at 6:30 p. m. in the fire station.

Legion Auxiliary Entertains Blind

Special Tea Program At Legion Home On Thursday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8—Members of the American Legion Auxilliary were hostesses to blind people of Lawrence County, Thursday afternoon, at a prettily appointed tea in the Legion rooms.

There were thirty guests present including Mrs. Howley, supervisor of the Schools for the blind in New Castle, who gave a very interesting talk on the work that is done in the school Rev. and Mrs. Routledge of North Sewickley were also special guests.

A very interesting program was given during the afternoon opening with greetings by Mrs. Lillian Rider. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Vocal solo—Mrs. Opal Porter.
Reading—Mrs. Goodwill.
Piano solo—Miss Myrtle Keefer.
Reading—Miss Alice Shirley.

Following the program a True and False contest was conducted by the Rev. H. L. Sumner, who selected three guests and three hostesses to take part. The guests participating were Mesdames Ethel Baird, Thelma Berstler and Mary Wohlman. The winner of the event was Miss Motta.

A request was then made to the guests for entertainment from them and Mr. Brown of New Castle responded with a piano solo, while Mrs. Ernest Guerrierro of Ellwood City sang a lovely vocal solo.

Much credit is due the members of the Auxiliary and the committee in charge, Mrs. Myrtle Greenham, chairlady, and the Mesdames Louise Smith, Helen Shirley and Thomas Slater for the successful afternoon party.

Frank Denome, Sr. Taken By Death

Franklin Avenue Man Dies Thursday Evening—Resided Here Many Years

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8—The death of Frank Denome, Sr., of 213 Franklin avenue marks the passing of one of Ellwood City's oldest living residents. Mr. Denome passed away at 7:20 p. m. Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Demauro.

Having migrated to this country in 1887 he settled in what is now called Ellwood in 1889 three years before Ellwood was founded.

Mr. Denome is well known by the people of this community, starting to work on the railroads, then later in the Steel Car Forge. He also was employed by the National Tube and retired in 1931. His proud claim was the memory of having worked under Mr. Hartman, the founder of Ellwood City.

Mr. Denome leaves a large number of descendants, daughters, Mrs. Carmel Lasso, Mrs. Antoinette Demauro, Mrs. Mary Panico; sons, Louis, Joseph, Sam, John and Frank. In addition he leaves 48 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. All of his descendants, including his own children, were born and are all still living in the Ellwood City area.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning with a high requiem mass at the Purification of the B. V. M. church, at 10:30 o'clock. Burial will be in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Nicklass Is Bridge Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Arthur Nicklass was a very charming hostess to the members of the Thursday Night Bridge club at her home last evening. Mrs. Earl Daubenspeck of Baden was a special guest.

Bridge was played at two tables and the high score awards were captured by Mrs. Norman Pack and Mrs. Herbert Habert, respectively. Mrs. Daubenspeck was presented with a guest prize.

At the conclusion of the card games the hostess assisted by Mrs. Habert served delicious lunch. The club will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Warren Wilson and on Saturday, December 16, will hold a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nicklass.

Match O'Brien With Garrett

Considerable Interest Is Shown In Coming Welterweight Battle

MEET MONDAY IN THE ARENA

Can Regis O'Brien, the fair-skinned, curly-headed chap from McKeesport beat the rugged Ace Garrett of New Kensington at 147 pounds? This is the query fans today are asking. However the problem will not be answered until they meet Monday night in the Arena, Grove street. Seven other bouts are carded.

O'Brien has sustained only one defeat since he has campaigned here. His milling has pleased fandom and no doubt he will be the popular favorite when the bell rings. Because Ace will be making his debut he is expected to start throwing leather with the first bell and not stop until the fight is terminated.

Another hot scrap should ensue when Norman Fitch, the pride of Chester, W. Va., battles Junior Hill, one of Pittsburgh's reputedly best middleweights. Fitch has appeared to advantage here in the past. It will be an inaugural bout here for Hill.

Last Show Until January

Al Sayers, also of Chester and possessor of a good reputation, will go against Sonny Horne, a slugger from Niles. Both are known to local fans and should stage a pleasing bout.

Other bouts carded for Monday follow: Tony Gaydas, New Kensington, vs. Buzz Mooney, New Brighton, 126 pounds.

Walter Cannell, New Kensington, vs. Eddie Heck, McKees Rocks, 130 pounds.

Clifford Payne, Pittsburgh, vs. Al Vancovitch, Ambridge, 135 pounds.

Johnny Banko, of West Pittsburg, will show a new protege against a beginner from Niles, in the opening bout.

The Monday night fracas will be the last in The Arena until the holidays are over it was announced today by the Jafferson, A. C., sponsors of the Amateur Athletic Union show.

Because of this it is anticipated that the crowd will be large. This indication also is derived from the return here of O'Brien, Fitch, Sayers, Horne and reputation Garrett holds.

Titan Football Team Recounts Past Season

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8 — Although the Westminster Titans won three and lost five games during the 1939 football season, it was the best year in the past five for the Blue and White.

The Titans chalked up victories over California 19-0, Grove City 13-0, and Edinboro 7-6. Three of the Westminster defeats were by narrow margins: 0-7 against Thiel, 0-7 against Bethany, and 13-14 against Slippery Rock. Of a total of 21 points scored on the Rockets all season, the Titans registered 13. Only two decisive setbacks came to the Titans, 25-0 from Geneva and 46-0 from Youngstown.

While their opponents were making 105 points, the Titans scored 52. Registering touchdowns for Westminster were Laposki with four touchdowns and four conversions for 27 points, Valicenti 6, Washabaugh 6, Brinkley 66, and Edwards 6.

Eleven lettermen will return to the Titan squad in 1940, a year that should produce the best results in many seasons for Westminster. Returning Titans will include Captain-elect Bill Ruefle, guard; Bob Washabaugh, end; Ted Ossoff, end; Hank Pfau, end; Dan Namula, tackle; Leonard, tackle; and Brinkley, end and guard. Returning backfield lettermen will be Dick Newton, Ellwood City; Tony Valicenti, Mt. Lebanon; Art Edwards, New Wilmington; and Pete Evanoff, Erie. Lost to the Titans from this year's squad will be Captains Caesar Laposki and Dale Youkers; Stan Lutton, center; Harry DePaulis, tackle; and Harry Shoup, back.

Joe Cronin Will Manage All-Stars

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—The American leaguers will be led in next year's all-star game by Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, in keeping with a new rule governing the competition.

Instead of the manager of the pennant-winning club—in this case Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees—managing the all-stars of the American loop, leadership will be rotated. Cronin was selected because of the Red Sox second place finish last season.

The National league team will, as usual, be managed by the pilot of the National league champions.

SHENANGO HOST TO FREEDOM FIVE

Two top ranking basketball aggregations appear here tonight.

On Union high's hardwood, the classy Chaney (Youngstown) hoopsters swish nets with Union township, at 8 o'clock. Coach Patterson's lineup will be dotted with seven veterans from last season. The Ohioans rank as one of the most powerful quintets in Youngstown. The clash is the 1939-40 opener for the locals. The Union Reserves will meet the Chaney Reserves in the preliminary game at 7:30.

The Union lineup tonight will practically be a veteran one, consisting of Covelli and Pilch at the forwards, Boron at center, and Montobon and Chiafullo at the guards.

Shenango township hopes to register its second triumph of the early season when it entertains the strong Freedom high passers. In trouncing Evans City, Tuesday evening, the New Castle Wildcate displayed strong possibilities of developing into a smooth ball club. The valley outfit looms as one of the most formidable in its class.

Move Is Made To Stop Yanks

Would Make It Impossible For Yanks To Acquire Star As Long As They Are Champs

SEEKING BETTER LEAGUE BALANCE

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—In a move without precedent in the 100-year history of baseball, the American League will attempt to stop the New York Yankees with a constitutional amendment following four years of frustration for opposing clubs which have tried to do it with bats. Taking effect immediately, a league rule has been passed which, in its briefest interpretation, prevents the Yankees from adding an outstanding star to their roster as long as they are champions, with the result that to replace parts which eventually must begin to creak and groan they will have to reach down into the minors or pick up whatever they can get in the way of cast-off talent.

Seek Better Balance

Determined to bring more balance to the American League, top-heavy these many years under the burden of the Yankees but most notably a one-team circuit for the last four seasons, the American League late yesterday passed this new baseball statute:

"The championship club of the American League shall not be permitted to acquire player contracts in the American League, except through waiver channels, as long as that club holds the championship."

The amendment was turned over to the National League for its consideration and probable passage in the interest of uniformity, but the national promptly tossed it out of the window and decided to go along with its rules in that respect as they stand, placing no penalty on success.

"This rule was designed simply to balance our pennant race and prevent a club that has a chance at the pennant in a close race from loading up with outstanding players," said President Will Harridge, explaining the new rule.

"We don't regard it as a penalty against winning the pennant, but as a good rule for the future of baseball."

The main thing to be said in rebuttal is that the Yankees are champions at the moment and, therefore, will be the first to feel the rule, which comes at a time when there is considerable agitation for something to be done with, against or to the Yankees no later than immediately.

Boosters Prepared For 1939-40 Season

Local Independent Aggregation To Meet Nationally Known Quintets

In excellent physical condition following a series of stiff drills, the New Castle Boosters are set to open the 1939-40 basketball season

Coach "Fris" Fraser has been drilling his cohorts for the past several weeks. The team, composed mostly of ex-New Castle High cage artists, will meet some of the strongest teams in the land.

The Boosters may open against one of the district college outfits, Westminster, Duquesne, Geneva or Slippery Rock. The inaugural date has been set for next Wednesday night. The Arena will be the Booster's home floor. The New York Celtics, Renaissance, Brooklyn Americans and many other outstanding cage attractions will appear here during the season.

The roster includes Johnny Carik, "Pop" Adams, Paul Morrison, "Chinkie" Dutkin, "Blackie" Nocera, Dal Mumford and several other exhigh players.

Homestead High Here Tonight

New Castle High To Open Season With State Champs Of Last Year

FRANKLIN HIGH MEETS RESERVES

New Castle High will open its 1939-40 basketball season here tonight at the Washington High court by meeting the fast Homestead High team, state champs last year. The preliminary game at 7 o'clock will find the Ben Franklin High team meeting the High Reserves.

The doors will open at 6:30 o'clock. Coach Paul Birch will bring a strong team here. They lost but two of the boys who played on the championship team last spring. New Castle will put a veteran team on the floor in Gennock, Cowden, Bombyk, Lauro and Adamo or Kelley.

Expect Good Game

The game will no doubt be one of the best of the year here. New Castle would like to top the Homesteaders. They have a good chance of doing so as Beaver Falls turned the trick the other night 38 to 27 at Homestead. It was the opening game for both teams.

The locals will go to Warren, Ohio on Saturday night for a game. Coach Bridenbaugh is looking for a fine team this year and one that may take the Section Three toga worn by Butler at the present time.

Following are the probable lineups:

New Castle		Homestead
Gennock	F	Rager
Adamo	F	Reed
Bombyk	C	Logan
Lauro	G	Feeny
Cowden	G	Stafura

Senators-White Sox Trade Ball Players

Senators Get Gerry Walker For Pete Appleton And Wright

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—Pitcher Pete Appleton and outfielder Taft Wright have been traded by Washington to the Chicago White Sox in exchange for outfielder Gerald Walker, Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators announced today.

Appleton won five games and lost 10 last season as a relief pitcher. Wright hit .309 and batted in 91 runs after approaching the American league batting championship in 1938.

He is a left-handed swinger and the Senators felt the need of a right-hander in their predominantly southpaw lineup at the plate, with Walker to fill the bill. He batted .289 and drove in 111 runs in 146 games last season.

Appleton previously was with Cleveland, the New York Yankees, Cincinnati and the Boston Red Sox. Wright came to Washington in 1938 while Walker was with the Detroit Tigers before going to the White Sox.

INDIES TO PLAY

The New Castle Indies will play the Franklin High Alumni team at the Arena floor on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock it was announced today. The Indies have won four straight and hope to make it five. Coach Fi Augostine will start his strongest lineup.

William Howard Taft was the first president of the United States to receive $75,000 salary. The bill providing for an increase from $50,000 to this amount was passed by the 60th Congress in 1909, during the final days of Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

Rumor Spreads That Bill Kern May Leave Tech

Tech Grid Coach Is Reported To Be Headed For Job At West Virginia

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec 8—Although denied by authorities at West Virginia University, rumors were revived here today that Bill Kern, Carnegie Tech grid coach, would soon become headman of the Mountaineers.

Enroute to Triadelphia yesterday, the Scotch mentor visited the Morgantown campus for several hours. Roy Hawley, Athletics director of the West Virginia school denied the rumors, and said:

"Football was discussed only in a minor way. The position here is still wide open, with nothing definite being decided as yet."

Sons Of Legion Form Rifle Club

Charter Will Be Signed At Meeting In Legion Home This Evening

Quite a number of activities are being planned for the Sons of the Legion, which will keep them active during the coming winter months.

A rifle club is being formed which will be affiliated with the National Rifle Club, and members of the organization will be given an opportunity to sign the charter this evening, at the meeting in the Legion Home.

Plans have also been made to set up a carpenter shop in the basement of the Legion Home, where carpentry will be taught under competent instructors.

An invitation has been extended to all sons of World War veterans to attend tonight's meeting of the local unit.

Deadly Snakes? Not According To Prof. R. H. Smith

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Do you believe the desert scorpion, the tarantula, sun spider, whip scorpion or centipede is deadly poison?

Well, don't you believe it, says Dr. Ralph H. Smith, entomological professor of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Many of California's supposedly dangerous creatures are comparatively harmless, Dr. Smith said.

For instance, the desert scorpion does have venom in the tip of its curved spine, but its sting is no more dangerous than that of a honey bee.

Another terrifying creature, the solpugid, or sun spider, which may be two inches long and equipped with powerful jaw-like fangs, is completely non-poisonous, assured the professor.

The only danger is from infection following its bite, which may be forestalled by any good antiseptic.

The Vinegarone, or whip scorpion, also bears a bad reputation, but like the sun spider has no poison glands. Its bite is no worse than getting your finger caught in a fish hook.

Although equipped with poison fangs, the centipede's bite is not fatal. At most, a bite would produce local pain and swelling, but no fatalities have been recorded from a centipede's attack.

The hairy tarantula, sending shivers up and down anyone's spine, is comparatively a playful little fellow, according to Dr. Smith. Although its bite is poisonous to a degree, no fatalities have been recorded.

Baseball Writers Seek Gehrig Honor

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, Dec 8.—An honor which probably will be attained by no other baseball player was prepared for Lou Gehrig today.

The Baseball Writer's Association passed a resolution requesting the Baseball Hall of Fame Committee to consider only the former Yankee first baseman for the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., in the forthcoming selection of players for this year, instead of passing out the honors as usual to as many ex-stars as receive the required number of ballots.

The writers suggest Genrig be named in commemoration of his record of 2,130 consecutive games, a streak which ended this year in the centennial of the game, when he suddenly was taken ill and forced to retire.

Buhl Handball Team Here On Wednesday

The Y. M. C. A. gym and handball courts will be a scene of activity Wednesday, December 13, when a team of volley ball players from the Buhl club of Sharon will come here to do battle with a group of young men of the local association. At the same time the handball team of the Oil City "Y" will be guests of the local handball players.

RULE VIOLATED LEGALLY

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia.—The rigid rule preventing prospective lawyers from conversing while taking the Iowa state bar examinations has at last been violated—legally.

One of the candidates for a certificate talked avidly throughout all the tests.

He was armless and dictated his answers to the questions to a stenographer.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Around about this time of year the fun loving people of our community start planning parties . . . it runs from the young ones in grade school to the older ones in their second childhood. One question that is asked at many of these parties is, "Do you know the meaning of the word Mistletoe?" . . . here is one answer that will satisfy most people . . . we talk in plant language and Mistletoe means "give me a kiss" (Scandinavian myth) and in case you wish to play a little game here is one that you younger people might try . . . it's purely a Christmastime game when Mistletoe is handy . . . The members of the party form a circle about the suspended Mistletoe. First player slides a slipper and hope it will land under the Mistletoe. If he fails, another tries. If he succeeds, there is a scramble in the direction of the lady toward which the slipper points. She must seize it and get away before being caught . . . Some fun eh kid.

* * *

What matters the most to you—
What people say,
Or just what you ARE?
Men can't take away
One bit of your Character
Though someone tries,
For Character triumphs
Over slander and lies.

But reputation
Is a most fickle thing,
Men can steal that away,
Or it may take wing
And never come back—
It has flown so far;
But your character stays,
For it's what you ARE!

So don't be upset
By what people say,
So long as you've done
Your best every day;
For Reputation
Is often untrue
But Character counts—
For that's JUST YOU!

Stock Market Is Reactionary

Losses Are Small—Trading Continues At Sluggish Pace

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The stock market turned reactionary today, after its fair-sized advance in the last few sessions. Losses ran to more than a point in several of the leaders. Trading continued at its recent sluggish pace.

Featuring was a break in sugar shares. Fajardo slumped more than 2 points, South Porto Rico lost about half as much and American Sugar dipped fractionally.

Steels were under moderate pressure, with Bethlehem and U. S. Steel each down about a point. Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Crucible lost almost as much. Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric and Johns-Manville were others to give up at least a point.

Chrysler and General Motors each converted early fractional gains into small losses.

Fair-sized declines also were incurred by DuPont, Anaconda, International Nickel, General Electric, United Aircraft, Santa Fe, Great Northern, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge, Allied Chemical and Texas Corp. were among the few to buck the downward trend.

Original Play To Be Presented

Westminster Little Theatre Players To Stage Miss Curry's Play

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8—Westminster College Little Theatre will present "Carolers in the Snow" an original play written by Betty Curry, English-Journalism major, Tuesday evening, December 12, in New Castle, under the sponsorship of the College Club. The same play will be produced in the college Little Theatre Wednesday and Thursday evening, December 13 and 14 at 8 o'clock.

"Carolers in the Snow" is a shadow-play in color, based on the actual conditions of the composition of "Silent Night." Scenes are set in the Alpine Mountains at the home of Father Joseph Mohr, a priest who helped Frank Grubber compose "Silent Night" and in the organ loft in the small village church.

Cast of characters include: Calvin Jolly as Franz Grubber, young composer and Saltsburg choir master; Ruth Beatty as Gretchen, Franz's little girl friend; Lois Porch and Mary Beth McLaughry, double-cast as Katrina; Walter Jamison as Fr. Mohr, Janet Reed, Lena and housekeeper; John Davis as Hans, one of the singers; Dave Stanton as Ludwig, the violinist, Everett Wilson as Adolph, the viola player;; Norma Johnson as the father, Virginia Purdy the mother; Robert Bevan as burgomaster and William Fulton as Karl, an organist

Presented by an all- Orpheus cast the play is directed by Dr. A. T Cordray, Little Theatre director and student-director, Kenneth Poulton of Warren O. Calvin Jolly, senior music major, will direct the music.

Miss Curry is the author of two other plays produced by New England colleges: "Shadow of the Truth" and "Gentlemen of the Jury," both 3 act plays.

Wife Of Pittsburgh Mayor Is Injured In Auto Accident

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Cornelius D Scully, wife of Pittsburgh's mayor, was under observation at the Presbyterian hospital today following an automobile accident last night in which she and Mrs. Henry Hornbostel, wife of the county parks director, were injured.

Mrs. Scully suffered a head injury, Mrs. Hornbostel a hip injury when the car in which they were riding with the mayor and Major Hornbostel collided with another automobile. The driver of the other car was not identified and East End police said they had had no report of the accident.

The two women were placed under the care of the mayor's son, Dr. John Scully, an interne. The four persons were on their way downtown to a theater performance when the accident occurred. The mayor's car was chauffeur-driven.
